Submarines 'Sink' Defending Warships!

NIGHT ATTACK SURPRISE TO FIRST LINE WARSHIPS

Big Dreadnaught Maryland And Other Large Craft Lose In 'Battle'

SAN DIEGO, March 14.—The super-dreadnaught Maryland, together with other first ships of the line, were "theoretically sunk" by submarines in the sham battle off the coast of Mexico Monday night.

This was brought out at the critique held this morning at North island by 400 of the highest officers of the navy, according to the first rumors leaking out behind the closed doors of the war games conference.

The conference will continue this afternoon, it was said. The announcement of the result of the battle between the attacking Atlantic and the defending Pacific fleets is expected late this evening from Commander-in-Chief Admiral Coontz' flagship, the Seattle.

Big Ship Surprised

The fleets made contact at night, it was disclosed, and the attacking submarines made heavy inroads on the defending warships.

TEAPOT OIL TRIAL HALTED BY JUDGE

Admissibility Of Evidence On Fall Liberty Bonds Holds Teapot Case

CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 14.—The equity hearing in federal district court whereby the United States government seeks to break the lease on Teapot dome naval oil lands granted Harry F. Sinclair by former Secretary of the Interior A. B. Fall, was suspended today, while Federal Judge T. Blake Kennedy considers the admissibility of evidence pertaining to $240,500 in liberty bonds said to have passed between Sinclair and Fall through the Continental Trading Co. of Canada in the Teapot transaction.

Arguments on the admissibility and competency of the evidence desired from the government from El Paso, Texas, and Pueblo and Denver bankers occupied practically all of yesterday's session, and Judge Kennedy announced he would deliver a ruling Monday.

Sinclair Wins Point

An adverse decision for the government will raise serious difficulties, it is believed, to the establishment to the chain of circumstances that the government claims links Sinclair and Fall with the bonds.

The defense scored a temporary victory late yesterday when the government failed to connect Sinclair as an interested party in the Continental Trading Co. activities through testimony by former United States Senator C. S. Thomas of Colorado and Colonel A. E. Humphreys, millionaire Denver and Texas oil operator.

Walter Camp Dead!

FAMOUS GRID EXPERT IS STRICKEN

Passes Away From Heart Disease During Night In Hotel Room

NEW YORK, March 14.—Walter Camp, head advisory football coach at Yale university, was found dead in his bed today in the Belmont hotel. He died during the night of a heart attack.

His death was discovered when he failed to appear for a meeting of the Inter-Collegiate Bootball Rules committee meeting in the hotel.

W. W. Roper of Philadelphia, and a doctor went to Camp's room and found the body. Camp was beyond 60 years of age, and to all who saw him last night in good health.

Great Authority

Camp was considered by many the greatest authority on football in the United States. Players selected on his all-American teams considered themselves signally honored.

Camp also was an author of note, his literary efforts including fiction, book and magazine articles on sports.

Camp was born in New Haven on April 7, 1859. He was graduated from Yale in 1880.

Friends here said the funeral would be conducted in New Haven, Conn., within a few days, but had made no further arrangements. The body will be probably sent this evening to New Haven.

Readers of The Glendale Evening News are familiar with the football articles written by Walter Camp, for last fall and winter he furnished this newspaper with daily stories on gridiron affairs. He was one of the best known football experts in the country and his articles and selections of all-American elevens were awaited with great interest.

FOSTER-FATHER OF M'CLINTOCK HELD

'Millionaire Orphan's' Death Points To Parents In Fresh Charges

CHICAGO, March 14.—The investigation into the death of William Nelson McClintock, "millionaire orphan" took another startling turn today when Mr. and Mrs. William D. Shepherd, foster parents of young McClintock, were seized by detectives from the office of Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney.

The Shepherds were taken into custody after new charges had been made by Dr. C. C. Faiman, head of the National University of Sciences.

Throughout an hour's questioning that followed, Shepherd refused to admit any of the charges made by Dr. Faiman and he was taken to a hotel under heavy guard. Mrs. Shepherd was sent to her home in Kennilworth.

Denies Charges

Shepherd denied that he had attended bacteriology classes in the science school; that he was taught by Faiman how to use a microscope and how to identify typhoid baccilli; that he took a letter from the school files in which he made application for courses in the school and, after taking the letter, laid $50 on the table for Faiman; that he had anything to do with tubes of typhus culture which Faiman charges were missed shortly after he quit attending classes.

WARREN TO BE GIVEN RECESS APPOINTMENT COOLIDGE ANNOUNCES

President Earlier In Day Decides To Quit Fight For Michigan Man, Then Determines On Different Action

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Official announcement was made at the White House late this afternoon that President Coolidge will give Charles Beecher Warren a recess appointment as attorney-general if the Senate persists in rejecting his nomination.

The announcement created amazement in the Senate, which was debating the Warren appointment at the time, for only a few hours earlier President Coolidge had informed Senate leaders, they said, that if Warren were not confirmed on the second attempt he would drop him and send forth a new candidate.

After a gentlemen's agreement had been reached to postpone action on the Warren case until Monday, Democratic leaders decided to abrogate it.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, brought in the majority committee report, censuring President Coolidge for re-submitting Warren's name after its rejection. Senate leaders were uncertain in mid-afternoon whether a vote would be reached today.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—President Coolidge has decided to abandon his fight to name Charles B. Warren as attorney-general, International News Service learned this afternoon.

While the Warren appointment will remain before the Senate to meet a second and unavoidable rejection, the president now is engaged in selecting another nominee to head the department of justice.

This was the word revealed to senatorial leaders following a hurried conference at noon between the president and Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, the Republican leader.

Coolidge Accepts Defeat

The president was prevailed upon to accept defeat in his drive to place Warren in his cabinet, it was learned, only after every recognized Republican leader in the Senate assured him the nomination could not be confirmed. The president was finally persuaded to accept the situation and to agree to submit a new name to the Senate early next week.

Among the men now under consideration for the appointment, it was said, were Justice Wallace McCamant of Oregon, who placed the president in nomination at Chicago in 1920 for the vice-presidency; Chief Justice Arthur P. Rugg of the Massachusetts supreme court; Silas Strawn, the Chicago lawyer; Solicitor-General James M. Beck, and Senator Guy T. Goff of West Virginia.

Awaits Formal Rejection

The president will determine upon the new appointee and submit it to the Senate probably Monday, or as soon as the Warren nomination is formally rejected for the second time.

Administration leaders failed in efforts to get the president to withdraw Warren's name in face of certain defeat.

PREDICT DOWNFALL OF JAP CABINET

TOKIO, March 14.—The downfall of the Japanese cabinet was predicted here in some quarters today. A great political crisis is pending as a result of the sudden threat by the House of Peers to reject the budget as retaliation for the cabinet's insistence upon passage by the peers of the reform bill. The members of the House of Peers are charged with using the budget as a pretext for avoiding issues involved in the reform bill, passage of which would prohibit members of the House of Peers from holding any other government office, including positions in the cabinet.

SENATOR DEPRIVED OF DEBATE RIGHT

WASHINGTON, March 14.—As a sensational climax to a fight over the collection of income taxes by the treasury department, the Senate this afternoon deprived Senator Richard E. Ernst, Republican of Kentucky, of the right to debate for having publicly insulted a fellow senator. The vote was taken on a motion to restore Ernst's floor privileges after he was "called to order" for asking permission to call a fellow senator 'a wilful, wicked and malicious liar." Ernst did not indicate who the term would be applied to, but the drift of debate pointed his remarks to Senator James A. Couzens, Republican of Michigan.

THREE FIGHTS PLANNED FOR DEMPSEY

Jack Kearns Tells About Ring Program Outlined For Title Holder

CHICAGO, March 14.—Jack Dempsey will engage in three contests between June 10 and Labor day, Jack Kearns, his manager, declared today, on his arrival in Chicago.

"Dempsey will be ready for the ring on June 10," said Kearns. "He will engage in two battles between that date and Labor Day. On Labor day he will battle with either Tom Gibbons or Harry Wills."

Kearns is on his way to Trenton, N. J., where he will testify in the Tex Rickard film case. From Trenton he will go to New York to talk fight with various promoters.

Dempsey's fight on June 10, will be on the coast. His opponent will either be Jack Renault or Bob Roper. Kearns admitted he has practically closed with Los Angeles promoters for staging this go.

On July 4 at Michigan City Kearns hopes to send Dempsey against Luis Firpo, the Argentinian. Promoter Floyd Fitzsimmons was in conference here with Kearns and Dempsey's manager said he would go through with such a contest if Fitzsimmons could obtain official sanction for such a clash from the authorities.

Speaking of the Wills or Gibbons match Kearns said:

"There is not a chance of Dempsey meeting Gibbons or Wills before Labor day. Which of the two it will be on that date is up to the promoter signing Dempsey. The promoter who bids highest and can stage the match will get the champion.

"It matters not to me or to Jack who his opponent is. Rather I should say it matters not whether it is Gibbons or Wills. Our business is fighting and all we ask is our price and a worthy opponent.

"I have received no less than 500 offers for Dempsey. Most of them come from promoters who seek advertising. There are about four in the lot who could promote a Dempsey match and to those four I will give consideration. I

SEVEN ARE KILLED AT 'RED' MEETING

Pre-Election Gathering Of German Communists Is Turned To Riot

HALLE, Germany, March 14.—A Communist pre-election meeting that developed into a gun battle when police broke it up resulted today in the killing of seven persons and the wounding of twenty-four. Six of the injured, four of them policemen, suffered wounds that doctors said would doubtless prove fatal. The Communists were meeting in preparation for the coming presidential campaign.

Thousands jammed the meeting hall where Ernest Thaelmann, Communist candidate for president, and other speakers delivered inflammatory speeches.

Gallery Opens Fire

Police had permitted the meeting only on condition that two English and one French Communist who had been scheduled to make addresses, would not be permitted to speak. The trouble started when one of the English reds started to deliver an oration despite police injunction.

A police officer started to interrupt him but failed. He summoned a squad of policemen. When police entered the hall they were hooted and jeered. One of the reds swung chairs at the officers.

At the height of the rioting shots were fired from the gallery. Police returned the fire and the disorders became widespread. The outbreak was finally quelled.

HUGE AVIATION MEET OPENS HERE WITH NUMEROUS FEATURES

Army, Navy and Commercial Craft Enter Contests At Glendale Airport

The following story of Glendale's first air rodeo was written by H. A. VAN DUSEN, A. S. HALL and P. M. CONNELLY of The Glendale Evening News staff. This newspaper has made elaborate plans to "cover" the big event and the details of today's events, also those of tomorrow, will appear in detail in The Glendale Evening News.

BULLETIN

Alf Gilhousen, of Glendale, won first in the "dead motor landing" contest today when he brought his plane to within 57 feet 10 inches of a specified mark on the field. Earl Daugherty of Long Beach was second at 81 feet and W. B. Kinner, of Glendale, was third at 81 feet 5 inches, after their planes glided from a high altitude with motors cut off. About twenty-five planes took part in the contest.

The winged birds that have ruled supreme in the skies of Southern California for so many centuries had to give way today to the winged birds of silk and steel. In the Glendale air rodeo at the Glendale airport the first air meet ever staged in this part of the country, commercial aviation, was given wholehearted recognition by thousands of people from all over the south.

The aviators proved the safety of air travel by stunts and feats little short of marvelous. Airmen from all parts of Southern California were here to take part, including delegations of both army and navy fliers, both branches of the service of which have thereby given official recognition of the Glendale rodeo.

At 1 o'clock thirty ships had arrived from points outside of Glendale, six of them navy aircraft. It is expected 100 planes will be here before nightfall. Shortly after the three famous light planes that have become known as the "acrobats of the navy," arrived from San Diego and entertained with stunts and maneuvers before landing.

From North Island

Lieutenant C. G. Halpine, commander of three heavy navy planes from North Island, San Diego, arrived in the 2-13, accompanied by C. W. Horn, chief quartermasters' mate. Lieutenant V. H. Schaffer piloted the 2-8 with O. Berryman, aviation machinists' mate as mechanic and Lieutenant T. W. Williams flew the 2-10 to the Glendale airport. They compose part of the aircraft squadron of the Pacific battle fleet.

The small aircraft, some of the most rapid "stunters" in the world, were still in the air at 1 o'clock and the names of their pilots had not been learned.

Commanded by First Lieutenant B. M. Spencer, Glendale, three planes belonging to the 476th aerial pursuit squadron, at Clover field, landed at the airport shortly after noon. The other two machines were piloted by C. M. James and F. L. Willets. Accompanying the Clover field fliers were J. A. McGlynn, chief machinist at Clover field and P. A. Ward, mechanic.

Earle Ovington, oldest civilian flier in Southern California, arrived in a Curtiss-Jenny from Santa Barbara, accompanied by Roy Priest, a famous aviator from Ventura. Ovington, with Arthur S. Dibbern, is official starter for the various air events today and tomorrow.

The Daugherty flying field of Long Beach was represented by Earl Daugherty, A. R. Ebrite, E. M. Ebrite, H. B. Schuck, R. F. Carpenter, Henry Inman and Ernie Davis.

State School Superintendent Will C. Wood Not to Resign; Plans Fight Over Legislation

SACRAMENTO, March 14.—Charging that "the forces of reaction" had made plans to wreck the state school department immediately following his retirement, Will C. Wood, state superintendent of public instruction, announced definitely today that he had refused to accept a position as superintendent of schools of Pennsylvania.

"I shall not quit my office with snipers in the rear," asserted the state educator. "I have definitely decided to remain in California as superintendent of public instruction. Last night I wired Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania that I would give no further consideration to the proposition to come to Pennsylvania. My reason for the action is two-fold—first, the Pennsylvania situation is complicated by a breach between the governor and the school leaders. I doubt whether it would be possible for me to heal this breach, thus enabling me to put over a constructive program of education.

"In the second place, the school situation here in California is such that I feel that I should not leave it at the present.

"Evidences multiply that the forces of reaction, anxious to attack the educational program for which I have stood during the last eleven years, are awaiting my resignation with intent to undo so much of the achievement of California in school affairs as they can. I shall not quit my office with snipers in the rear."

The state educator is expected to lead an extra fight against the two Deuel bills before the Legislature, one of which calls for the appointment of a state director of education at a salary of $7500 per year to supervise the state teachers' colleges and remove them from the jurisdiction of Wood's office.

FRENCH COMEDY GIVEN BY CLASS

High Students Win Approval By Presentation Of Moliere Play

By WARD FOULTZ

"Le Malade Imaginaire," a famous French play by Moliere was presented by "Le Circle Francais," the Glendale Union high school French club, under the supervision of the French teacher, Mrs. Ethel W. Bailey, on Friday evening, March 13, in the Broadway high school library.

The play was given in French, but, notwithstanding this fact, it was enjoyed by all present, including those who did not understand French, since the comical situations, brilliant costumes, and beautiful dances and musical selections afforded an excellent evening's entertainment.

English Synopsis

In order that those who did not speak French might enjoy and understand the play, an English synopsis was printed on the programs.

The story is as follows:

Argan imagines himself ill and demands the care and attention of his servants, family, and doctor every minute of the day.

He wishes his daughter to marry Diafoirus, a young doctor, so that they might have a doctor in the family. But Angelique is in love with Cleante and asks the help of Toinette in averting her marriage with Thomas Diafoirus. Toinette agrees, and appears to sympathize with Argan, although she secretly disapproves of his plans.

The Plot Thickens

Beline, the wife of Argan, agrees with him in everything because she wants him to leave her all his money. Cleante comes to Argan's home pretending to be Angelique's singing master. He is discovered by Argan, who is greatly angered.

Thus the story continued with many humorous situations and amusing incidents.

The cast of characters was: Argan, Jared Wenger; Beline, wife of Argan, Ruama Coit; Angelique, Argan's daughter, Catherine Baird; Louison, small daughter of Argan, Ruth Marcus; Beralde, brother of Argan, Margaret Height; Cleante, lover of Angelique, Ida Olmstead; M. Diafoirus, doctor, Frances Kubert; Thomas Diafoirus, his son, Lucas Alden; Toinette, servant, Alice Hill.

Dancing and Music

As added attractions there was music and dancing during the "intermedes" of the play. A minuet was danced by Pauline Estock and Ida Olmstead, and Frances Kubert rendered several piano solos. Christine Edwards, accompanied by Mrs. Alice Ripley, played several violin selections. After the program, refreshments were served by Dorothy Gilman, head of the refreshment committee.

Those who did not understand French seemed to enjoy the play to the fullest extent, for the comedy of it was enlarged upon by the non-intelligible verbal clashes. Those who did understand French, greatly appreciated the excellent presentation and interpretation of "Le Malade Imaginaire."

CLASS ORATORS MEET MARCH 20

Speakers Chosen By Local Students To Hold Forth At Broadway High

By GLENN CUNNINGHAM

Friday, March 20, is the date set for the annual interclass oratorical contest to be held in the auditorium of the Broadway high school.

Each of the four high school classes has chosen one of its members to represent it in the coming contest. The senior representative will be Jack Finch who will speak on the subject of child labor. The junior class has chosen Jerome Andrews who is to speak on Education and Democracy. The sophomore representative, Mary Elizabeth Campbell, will discuss the ex-soldier problem in her oration, "Lest We Forget." Jean Williams, who will represent the freshman class has chosen the title, "Charity," for her oration.

Started In 1910

The oratorical contest was first held in 1910, when it was inaugurated by Harry L. Howe, then vice-principal of the school. The contest proved so popular among the students that it was repeated the following year and it is now held as an annual event. Students and faculty look forward to it with much pleasure and with keen and wholesome rivalry.

Preceded By March

It has been the custom for the members of each class to form a line of march before the contest in which they wear costumes that are symbolic of the subject treated in the oration. The topic of the speaker is also pictured in a tableau put on by the class.

A meeting held Wednesday morning in order to make plans for the event was attended by Mrs. George U. Moyse, and A. L. Ferguson, vice-principals of the school, Miss Molly Corry, faculty manager of the contest, and Bonnie Jean Lockwood, student manager. The president of each class and the representative speakers were also present.

The price of admission will be 25 cents to students and outsiders alike. The event promises to be well worth one's time as the speakers have spent a great deal of careful preparation on their several topics, which are all of timely interest.

Elsie Forsyth, who won the contest last year for the class of '25 will act as chairman for this year's oratorical.

Glendale will be ably represented in the debate as Elmer T. Worthy, the debate coach has selected Jean Henry and Alice Hill to speak on the negative side of the question with James Sargent as alternate. These debaters did exceptionally well in the recent Glendale-Santa Ana debate in which Glendale won with a 6-0 decision.

Good in Rebuttal

Jean Henry has shown some remarkable ability in rebuttal. She was the outstanding speaker in the Junior-Senior debate, and helped carry the Junior team to victory with a 2-1 decision. Her experience in inter-scholastic and inter-class debates should prove a valuable asset to the Glendale team in the coming contest.

Glendale's other speakers, Alice Hill and James Sargent, have both had experience in former debates, and have proved themselves capable debaters. They are both preparing some convincing arguments in favor of the negative side of the question.

STUDENTS ATTEND BUSINESS EXHIBIT

Local Group Visits Show At Ambassador Auditorium

By VIRGINIA EDWARDS

Fifty students of the Glendale Union high school visited the business show at the Ambassador auditorium in Los Angeles on March 9. The purpose of the visit was to give students following commercial lines an insight of the development of modern office equipment.

Feature Is Interesting

One feature of special interest was a machine which seals and cuts many hundreds of envelopes daily, thus reducing the necessity of so many mailers in the large offices.

These demonstrations were given under the auspices of the different typewriter manufacturers of the United States, and each company had a booth where their special machines were operated and explained.

First in Los Angeles

This is the first show of its kind to be held in Los Angeles this year and it proved to be of general interest to everybody.

Los Angeles, Pasadena and many other Southern California high schools besides Glendale went to the show.

J. Rhea Baker, Miss Mabel Murphy and Miss Harriet Switzer, all of the commercial department, attended from Glendale.

1925 ANNUAL TO SURPASS OTHERS

Competing Groups Report Big Advance Sale Of Stylus

By MARIAN DUEY

A great deal of interest and enthusiasm is being aroused at Glendale Union high school over the sale of Stylus tickets. This advance sale of tickets will continue next week. There are two factions working against each other to obtain first place in the number of tickets sold.

The Glendale Union high school annual, the Stylus, for this year is expected to surpass all previous editions.

Record of Events

This book is a record of the school events for the past year, and its arrival is anticipated by everyone.

Hendrik Van Rensselaer, editor-in-chief, and the staff are working toward a goal which will make this year's Stylus the most successful ever edited. With Paul E. Webb as adviser they are working incessantly to compile the material which will appear in the annual.

Has Leather Cover

The Stylus this year will be leather-bound. This is the first time leather covers have been used.

Spanish Play Makes Hit With Students

By GENE LYNCH

During the second meeting of "Los Filosofas," the B-2 Spanish club, Mexican and Spanish music, and a play in Spanish were the features. The meeting was held Friday, March 7, during second period.

The play, "El Ioven Medice Inactunado," was presented by Marian Letts, Clifton Johnson and Norman Schwartzkopf. The plot had to do with a doctor who had a difficult time in getting clients. Whenever he did secure a patient he invariably told him to do something the patient was already doing. As an example, he told a postman to take a long walk each day for his health.

Consuelo Mirano, president of the club, urged members to attend a theater party being planned. Meetings are held on Friday and are attended by Miss Mabel Lambert's B-2 Spanish class.

EDUCATION TRAINS FOR WORLD WORK

Dr. Charles E. Barker Tells Students To Develop 'The Will To Do'

By GLENN CUNNINGHAM

"The chief purpose of education is to train the mind and the will to do the work you've got to do when that work ought to be done, whether you like to do it or not," declared Dr. Charles E. Barker in a talk, "How to Get the Most Out of Life," before the students of Glendale Union high school, Thursday afternoon in the school auditorium. Dr. Barker is speaking under the auspices of the Rotary International to boys and girls of hundreds of high schools in this country.

Dr. Barker was introduced by J. Herbert Smith, president of the Glendale Rotary club. He has spoken before 1,950,000 students in over 2,000 schools, and for eight months of the year he speaks on an average of three times a day.

Guide Is Needed

"You must have a guide to go through life," said Dr. Barker, who told of countless lives that have been wrecked because of the lack of proper guide.

Quoting President Garfield, he said: "If you want to make the most out of your life, if you want to make the highest kind of success, you have to have three things. These three things are a strong arm, a clear head, and a brave heart.

Exercise Needed

"A strong arm does not mean brute strength, but a strong, healthy constitution and a well developed body."

Dr. Barker told how this is made possible by regular, systematic exercise taken every day. He said this was not merely theory but had been proved in his case.

"You take systematic exercise for fifteen minutes every day and any one of you can live to an old age with wonderful health and lots of vitality.

"By a clear head, President Garfield did not mean getting high grades or having a good memory but being able to think out your problems.

The speaker encouraged a college education for every boy and girl.

RECORD ATTENDANCE EXPECTED AT AUTO SHOW

CITY TEACHERS HEAR PLAN FOR EDUCATION

Richardson D. White Gives Report on Cincinnati Convention, Outlining Objectives Set by Savants

"Schools are for Service, Not for Self," the motto of the recent convention of the department of superintendence of the National Education association in Cincinnati, Ohio, was the challenge to more than 125 Glendale teachers, meeting last night at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, by Richardson D. White, superintendent of Glendale city schools, who was among the 14,000 educators attending the convention.

"This motto makes us a part of the great modern movement in the world today to make the golden rule real," said Mr. White.

Comprehensive in every detail was the convention resume given by the speaker. On Wednesday Mr. White told Glendale Federation, Parent-Teacher associations, of the convention, outlining high lights, giving objectives cited, and resolutions adopted. Last night, when he spoke to Glendale City Teachers' club, he gave a little summary of convention activities, and added many details of vital interest to those actively engaged in the teaching profession. Salient among Mr. White's remarks, giving convention high lights were:

Convention Theme

"The general theme of the convention was 'Patriotism.' It was a consideration of American ideals as they may be applied to public schools.

"There is a feeling prevalent today as never before that the curricula in public schools are in a fluid state tending to revision.

"We must fit the rising generation to meet modern conditions of life.

"We are living in a new age with different conditions and problems to meet.

"It is our duty as teachers to see that the modern curricula fits modern times.

"Fundamentals was the biggest and most important theme discussed.

Educate for Life

"We no longer think education in terms of the little old red schoolhouse.

"I believe that educators and people at large see that schools must educate the child for the whole life he is to live.

"We must train children in health habits.

"You can't size up a person by seeing him at his job, see him in his leisure time.

"There has never been a time when we, as a nation, have had so much leisure time.

"All objectives cited for education are woven into the making of ethical character.

On World Peace

"When we take a broad view of education we can't help but see it's time for housecleaning.

"At last they are awake to the fact that the people best qualified to revise the curricula are the teachers. No longer do superintendents go into seclusion in their offices and write courses of study.

"Research has taken a real place in education.

"It is the belief of educators that if the world is to have peace it will be through two channels, education and a court of international justice. There must be good will among nations, brought about by an educational campaign beginning with the children."

Outlines Objectives

These statements from Mr. White were inspired by matters of nation-wide interest discussed at the convention. Some of these matters he gave as revision of elementary school curricula;, safety, growth of research, rise and development of experimental school systems. Of special interest to the teachers were the objectives of education outlined by educators at the convention. These objectives as given by Mr. White are:

Command of fundamental processes; worthy home membership, training for vocation, training for citizenship, health education, worth-while use of leisure time, ethical character.

Resolutions adopted at the convention urged a secretary of education in the federal cabinet, ratification of the child labor amendment, a world court and codification of international laws, character teaching in the schools; clean drama, motion pictures, books and newspapers.

Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan, principal of Broadway school and president of the City Teachers' club, presided at the honor table, at which were seated Mr. and Mrs. Richardson D. White, Miss Annie L. McIntyre, assistant superintendent of schools; Mrs. A. A. Barton, president of the city school board; Mrs. Arthur C. Brown, a member of the city school board; Miss Carrie Noble, principal of Wilson Intermediate school; Miss Lorraine Mitchell, principal of Columbus school and first vice-president of the teachers' club; Miss Bertha Berry, second vice-president of the club; Miss Sara Dunn, recording secretary of the club; Miss Daisy Kern; J. F. McMaster, club treasurer; Katherine V. Sinks of The Glendale Evening News.

There were five longer tables presided over by Miss Ida M. Waite, Miss Elsa Brenneman, Mr. Hanson, Norman R. Whytock, Miss Salstrom, Mrs. Irene J. McReynolds.

Clever St. Patrick's day favors bore placards on the various tables. During the dinner a program of harp music was given by Mrs. Enona Hopkins, well-known Glendale artist, whose entertainment is always most delightful. Other musical numbers were songs by Miss Julia Brown of Cerritos school, "Morning" and "Dreamin' Time." Mrs. McReynolds, also of the Cerritos faculty, sang "Birth of Morn" and "The Star." Miss Gladys Sharpe, vice-principal of Glendale Intermediate school, was accompanist.

Dinner was served by Tuesday Afternoon club women, under the direction of Mrs. Homer D. Lockwood, chairman of ways and means. There were 135 club members and guests present for what was declared to be one of the finest club gatherings of the present school year.

MARRIED LIFE IS SHOWN IN FILM

'Wandering Husbands' At Glendale Theatre For Today Only

The story of George and Diana Moreland, whose marital ship hits the rocks, is told in "Wandering Husbands," which shows at the Glendale Theatre today only, with James Kirkwood and Lila Lee in the featured roles. C. Gardner Sullivan wrote the story and William Beaudine directed.

All the trouble starts because of George's attraction for another woman. Diana gets her husband back by the simple method of having him find out that he loves her more than her rival. She does this by bringing about a life and death crisis in which only one woman can be saved. Her husband chooses her.

James Kirkwood as the husband and Lila Lee as the wife, little Muriel Dana as Rosemary, and Margaret Livingston as Marilyn Foster do some excellent acting. Others in the supporting cast who are good are: Eugene Pallette, Turner Savage, George Pearce and George French.

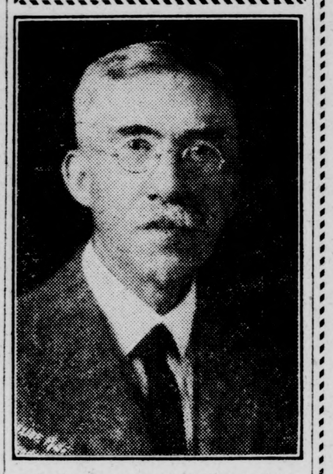
Candidate

W. F. TOWER, who has entered the councilmanic race, announces his platform today.



W. F. Tower, of 328 North Maryland avenue, one of the persons suggested by the citizens of Glendale through The Glendale Evening News as a possible candidate for City Council, today announced his platform in the following letter:

Editor, The Evening News:—According to the request of a considerable number of the citizens of Glendale, I have decided to enter the race for City Council. Neither directly or indirectly have I solicited the support of anyone, nor shall I at any time, upon the basis of friendship, business, politics or religion.

Honesty, economy, efficiency should be the scales upon which each and every candidate should be weighed. Public office is a public trust, particularly needed where municipal ownership and operation of public utilities are involved. Public ownership is alone justified when its products are a maximum of service and a minimum of economy. When rightfully managed this is its achievement every time. Glendale is a concrete example and it should be an aim to continue and improve its standard.

Water Meter Charge

In my judgment we should abolish the water meter installation charge first. It is an unjust discrimination to charge the newcomer $30 when his neighbors had theirs installed free. Second, it discourages building. Many a family, building a home at a great offort, needs the $30 for building bills. If a privately-owned public service, the gas company, makes no charge for meter installation, neither should the public service department of the city of Glendale.

Let us give all the encouragement possible to home builders. I favor the establishment of an up-to-date municipal employment bureau, to bring together those needing work and those employers needing help. With the public improvements on hand and several large private enterprises contemplated, there is a fine opportunity for such a bureau to perform a signal service for both employe and employer.

Favors Industries

I am in favor of the City Council heading a movement to secure substantial industries for Glendale, have on file in the city hall all the available sites in and around Glendale, and then use a considerable part of the advertising fund to interest the right kind of industries to come here. Sending brass bands to distant conventions, buying silver cups may be one way to advertise Glendale, but locating industries to give employment to residents and newcomers is a better way.

I favor the hearty co-operation of the council with all efforts and organizations looking to advancement and perfection of Glendale as one of the banner cities of the union.

While favoring a separate and distinct government, I favor a close understanding and co-operation with the city of Los Angeles and all surrounding towns.

Upon this basis I invite support at the ballot box. But, for the sake of Glendale and good government, vote anyway. Vote for someone.

W. F. TOWER,
328 North Maryland, Ave.

Women's Relief Corps Completes Federation

Members of Women's Relief corps of G. A. R. posts in Glendale, Pasadena and Sawtelle met yesterday morning at the G. A. R. hall on South Glendale avenue to complete the federation recently started. Glendale women chosen officers were: Mrs. Priscilla Houdyshel, president; Mrs. Flora Pixley, secretary; Mrs. Julian Hayes, press correspondent; Mrs. Mary Bennett, color bearer No. 4. The federation includes John F. Godfrey W. R. C., Pasadena; Burnside W. R. C., Sawtelle; John A. Martin W. R. C., Sawtelle, and N. P. Banks W. R. C., Glendale. Two Los Angeles corps will probably become part of the federation. Glendale corps will entertain federation members all day the third Monday in April, when installation of officers will be held. At the meeting of Glendale corps yesterday afternoon Mrs. Hettie Lawson, junior vice-president, presided, in the absence of Mrs. Mary Bennett, president, who is ill. Mrs. Alice M. Johnson was received as a new member.

EDITORIAL

Big Advertising Event

Glendale's first automobile show has been instrumental in drawing the attention of other Southern California cities to Glendale and, as an advertising event for the community, its value is beyond compute. Many out-of-town people have attended the show and, of course, chambers of commerce and automobile dealers' organizations have shown their interest by their presence at the exposition.

Both out-of-town visitors and Glendale people have been amazed at the completeness of the display and have spoken of the wonderful opportunity afforded buyers who as yet have no favorite car, are undecided what make to purchase and who wish to make comparisons. Here they have an opportunity to examine and compare at close range all the makes of cars in their price class.

Presumably it will not be possible to tell how many sales were made as a direct result of the auto show. The Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association has shown a praiseworthy public spirit in putting on this exposition and Glendale people who are in the market for cars, accessories or motor service of any kind will certainly remember the home dealers and reward them for their enterprise by patronizing them.

ATWATER CANDIDATE OUTLINES PLATFORM

E. E. Lampton Is In Favor of Colorado River Project, Civic Center and Municipal Plant Ownership

E. E. Lampton, Atwater Park resident, who is seeking election to the Los Angeles City Council in the First ward, announced the platform on which he will base his campaign to The Glendale Evening News today.

In his platform Mr. Lampton declares himself in favor of further development and municipal ownership of all public utilities as fast as funds will permit. He comes out strongly in favor of immediate commencement of work on the Colorado river project with the assertion that under the most favorable conditions the dam cannot be completed in time to keep Los Angeles from being confronted with a water famine.

"I favor a civic center to meet our present requirements, with allowances for our future growth," Mr. Lampton declares in discussing this question in his platform announcement. Speaking of major traffic plans, he expressed himself in favor of new boulevards over the Santa Monica and Hollywood mountains in order to allow immediate communication between the San Fernando valley and sections lying to the southwest and along the beach. More schools and rapid development of parks, playgrounds and libraries are also urged by Mr. Lampton. He concludes his platform with an urgent plea for economy and efficiency in the administration of the city government.

Sewer Work To Start

Preliminary legal action prior to the installation of sewer mains in Atwater Park has been taken by the Los Angeles City Council with passage of an ordinance providing for the sewers. Notices of location have been mailed to all property owners on the south side of the tract affected by the ordinance. Work of installing sewer mains in the district will be rushed to conclusion in order that they will be ready to connect with the Glendale outfall system now being constructed through Atwater Park.

Give Card Party Tonight

A benefit card party will be given tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Bacon, 3802 Revere avenue. Tables will be arranged for five-hundred, bridge and whist. Prizes will be awarded the winning players.

"Taking Sides With God" will be the topic of the morning sermon of Rev. Grant Nelson at the Atwater Park Baptist church Sunday morning. At the night service Rev. Nelson will preach the third sermon in his series on "The Miracle of Christianity." The special topic of this third sermon will be "The Church Suffering, But Triumphant."

Real Estate Transactions

Mrs. Emily C. Fiegembaum of Kingswell drive, extensive real estate holder in the Atwater Park tract, will erect four new stucco bungalows on Edenhurst, Hollypark, Valleybrink and Hollydale avenues, she announced today.

H. O. Lewis has purchased property on Dover street between Glenfeliz and Edenhurst avenues and will build a five-room house immediately. A five-room stucco will be erected on Hollypark place by August T. Page in the near future, he said. A frame house of five rooms on Garden avenue near Tyburn street will be occupied by W. T. Booker, the owner, when completed.

Personals From District

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford K. Swartzbaugh of Toledo, Ohio, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton S. Decker, 3264 Garden avenue. Mr. Swartzbaugh is well known in Masonic circles in Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Kister, formerly of St. Louis, are now residing at 3937 Hollydale place, sharing the bungalow of Mr. and Mrs. L. Pagel.

URGES CANDIDACY OF RUTH KERN

A. L. Baird Gives Reasons Why Woman Is Logical City Treasurer

Editor, The Evening News:—I have been asked to endorse the candidacy of Miss Kern for the position of city treasurer of Glendale.

Upon looking into the facts in connection with this, I find that Miss Kern has been acting deputy during the term of J. W. Stauffacher and J. C. Sherer. Therefore, I naturally inquired from Mr. Sherer as to her ability to handle the duties of this office and have received the following letter from him.

"Mr. A. L. Baird,

"Dear Mr. Baird:—

"In regard to the candidacy of Miss Ruth Kern for the position of city treasurer. Miss Kern was in the office when I assumed the duties of treasurer and I found her from the beginning familiar with all its duties and surely alive in mastering any new ones, as they have developed from time to time. She has had charge of the cash handled in the office and has kept the accounts with invariable accuracy. She is conscientious in the performance of duty and perfectly satisfactory in her dealings with the public. The position is of growing importance and I should not commend Miss Kern if I did not believe that she is big enough for the job.

"Yours very truly,
"J. C. SHERER,
"Treasurer."

"Then I called upon a number of the prominent business men and leading women of the town and find that they are almost as a unit for her election. I also notice by the article appearing in The Glendale News that she has been endorsed by practically every banker in town which is a wonderful endorsement in itself.

Reason for Stand

"I wish to state that Miss Kern is supporting a family the same as any other voter and taxpayer and upon close examination I have found her to be entirely capable, efficient, trustworthy, honest and certainly entitled to be elected to the office of the city treasurer, not only for the above reasons, but because of the fact that with the additional business that is going to be handled through this office on account of the hundreds of assessments to be made on the new laterals for sewer, I think it would be very unwise to change to anyone, regardless of their ability, that is not now in close touch with the many duties of this office, and I want Miss Kern and the general public to know that I am absolutely behind her candidacy and will do everything within my power to see that she is elected to this office.

Thanking you for the publicity given to her, I am

Very truly yours,
A. L. BAIRD.

NEW BUSINESS BLOCK BUILT REAL NEED

Structure Located At Corner Orange, Hawthorne Has Many Advantages

The new business block at the southwest corner of Orange and Hawthorne streets was built with the realization that Glendale needs more stores near the business center but sufficiently removed from the zone of high values to make attractive rents possible. The owners are Miss Winnifred Traver, J. N. Richards and Frank W. Parr, who are also owners of the ground. The Allen Construction Co., local contractors, designed and erected the building.

Located one block each from Brand boulevard, Broadway, Colorado boulevard and Central avenue, this building is felt by the owners to offer the type of office space most in demand. They predict for Orange street a big business future.

Miss Winnifred Traver, who occupies one of the offices in the new block, has lived in Glendale for the past seven years. For four years she was in the escrow department of the Security Trust & Savings bank, then served two years as secretary of the Glendale Realty board. She is now conducting her own real estate office, in association with her father, C. L. Traver, and V. M. Shillock, formerly of San Francisco.

Tenants In Block

J. N. Richards, an investor, is associated with Frank W. Parr, realtor, in an office in the new block. Mr. Parr has been in business locally for five years. Mr. Richard buys and sells property and is well-known.

Another Glendale business man who has taken office space in the Traver-Richards-Parr block is Fred W. Furbeck, proprietor of the Furbeck Art studio, established in 1915.

Among the Glendale firms who contributed to erection of the building are: Allen Construction Co., Security Building; Lounsberry & Harris, 3122 San Fernando road, lumber; Glendale Mixed Mortar Co., San Fernando road at Aviation drive, and the Patterson Electric Co., 1006 South Glendale avenue.

Guests were the honorees and Mrs. Lottie Leigh of Dennison, Iowa; Mrs. Edwin Cross of Des Moines, Iowa; Mrs. Nelson Cowles and mother, Mrs. Nash, former president of Iowa Federation of Women's clubs; Miss Louise McCormick, Mrs. Mattie McCormick Allen of Los Angeles; and Mrs. Helen Boynton Griggs of Glendale.

BIG EVENT TO CLOSE WITH TONIGHT'S BILL

Friday the Thirteenth Held No Terror For Motor Car Dealers as Large Crowds Visit Exposition

Friday, the 13th, was no hoodoo for the first annual automobile show of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association. In fact, the old jinx had the reverse "English," and one of the largest crowds yet recorded turned out to see the 100 cars valued at $200,000, together with numerous accessory displays, housed under the huge tent on South Brand boulevard at Magnolia avenue.

Fully 4500 motor enthusiasts visited the tent yesterday afternoon and last night, according to P. A. Kelley, show chairman, bringing the total of those who have seen the show to nearly 20,000.

This afternoon and tonight are expected to record the biggest attendances of the show. At 3 o'clock this afternoon a special matinee under the direction of Millie Marlowe and her troupe of dancing girls is being offered, for women and children, and tonight a mammoth program will be staged, when the big show will close its eight-day run with a shower of valuable gifts.

Prizes Distributed

Last night, after Millie Marlowe and her girls had put on a particularly keen revue, Manager Harry LaBreque aided fortune in distributing to lucky visitors a long list of valuable prizes offered by local automobile and accessory dealers.

Harry J. Schmidt and B. Perry, Glendale distributors for Joe Andrews & Co., 1739 West Pico street, Los Angeles, gave an order to install P. B. brake bands one Ford; William H. Hooper & Co., 222 Ease Broadway, selling Samson & Star cord tires, gave a $5 service card; Murray Motors, Inc., 905 South Brand boulevard, Willys-Knight and Overland dealers, windshield wiper; Kelley Motor Co., 816 South Brand boulevard, Hudson-Essex dealers, stop signal; Tanner & Hall, Ltd., 622 South Brand boulevard, Buick dealers, five-pound can of cup grease; Packer Auto Co., 241 South Brand boulevard, Studebaker dealers, combination tire padlock; R. E. Corrigan, 116 West Colorado boulevard, Dodge cars and Graham trucks, pair of step plates; Court Motor Co., 901 South Brand boulevard, Cadillac dealers, one gallon of Penzoil; C. H. Hunter, 208 West Broadway, Oldsmobile dealer, one rear side-mirror; Jellison Motor Co., 1004 South Brand boulevard, Star-Durant dealers, one inner tube.

Give Auto Tonight

A man who had the right number but no car, was given carfare home by Manager LaBreque, who again featured his gift of "a pound of meat and a loaf of bread" to a surprised winner.

"Ain't we got fun!" he cried.

Tonight a small auto of the "kiddie car" type will be given away, together with a concluding deluge of other valuable prizes and a special program that is calculated to wind up the first annual Automobile show of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association in a blaze of glory.

GLENDALE RADIO PROGRAM TONIGHT

Between 8 and 9 o'Clock Bill Will Go On Air Over KFI Station

Milford Jackson, baritone; May Orcutt, pianist, and Mrs. Max Lynn Green in a group of readings, will feature the Glendale radio program over KFI, to be given between 8 and 9 o'clock tonight. In addition H. V. Adams will give a ten-minute talk on "Glendale, the Unusual." The program is one of the monthly series given under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce with Gould H. Warren, chairman of the radio committee, in charge of arrangements.

Glendale was to have gone on the air last Saturday night but a postponement of one week was made at the last minute. The program will remain virtually unchanged, excepting that Mayor Spencer Robinson, who will represent the city at the serial banquet tonight, will not be able to sing over the radio as previously scheduled.

Mr. Jackson, appearing by request for the second time on a Glendale program, will render a group of songs:

"Don't Go Home" ..... Richard Hageman
"Sorter Miss You" ..... Olay Smith
"Moonlight Song" ..... Cadman
"In the Garden of Tomorrow" ..... Jessie L. Deppen
"Pale Moon" ..... Logan

Miss Orcutt will accompany Mr. Jackson and will also play three numbers from Chopin: "Nocturne" Op. 15, 2; "Fantaisie Impromptu" and "Etude" Op. 10, No. 7.

Mrs. Green, chairman of the drama department of Community Service, will give a group of readings, following the musical numbers.

Sojourning Masons To Join Meeting Sunday

A call has been issued for all Master Masons in the vicinity of Glendale who are not now members of any local Masonic lodge to meet at the Masonic Temple on South Brand boulevard Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This meeting is a continuation of the effort being made to form in Glendale a lodge of sojourning Masons. There are said to be several hundred of these in this neighborhood, and a goodly number have already signified their desire to form such a lodge here. The call is issued by Col. A. M. Dewey, who was made the chairman of the last meeting held some weeks ago.

Daily Greeting to News Readers

"I DON'T KNOW"—
Is the hardest admission some of us ever make.
Is an answer a truly educated man is not ashamed of.
Is no excuse for not trying to know.
Is sometimes a mark of intellectual laziness.
Is the best reply we can make when in doubt.
May be a confession, an evasion or a tragedy or a defense.
On the lips of an egotist is the beginning of wisdom.

HOMES AND LOYALTY

It was stated recently that the increase in bank savings deposits is ample proof that the Bolshevists are going to find it more and more difficult to disseminate their principles in the United States. For the people who own their homes and have money in the bank do not take kindly to communistic propaganda. In America there are millions of men who have provided homes for their families by their own efforts, have laid aside a little fund for emergencies and are providing their loved ones with the necessities and some of the luxuries of life. These men know that they alone have brought about this condition that makes for their happiness and contentment and that what they have done, other men who have nothing and who are blaming the "system" for their indigence could have done also with a little ambition and a bit of common sense.

The man who has a home and a job is the happiest man in the world and it is going to take a lot of argument to prove to him that he should share what he has earned with those who are less diligent and less ambitious.

The chief difference between the man who has earned a competence and the one who has nothing is not one of opportunity or luck, but it is the difference in their attitude toward life and their fellow men. Of course there is such a thing as being pursued by disaster, bad health or ill luck, although people often bring these things upon themselves, but as a rule it is not the people who have tried and failed who cry so loudly against the government and the "system." It is those who have never tried, who have not taken advantage of the opportunties this country offers to every man and woman to earn a home and a competence.

So it is obvious that any encouragement that can be given to men to buy homes and to save and bank their money is a move toward better citizenship. Glendale is a city of homes, which is one reason for our growth and prosperity, for home ownership promotes good citizenship in the community as well as loyalty to country. A campaign to encourage home-building and home-buying would, therefore, be fraught with worth-while results.

SPREAD OF PROSPERITY

Prominent financiers all over the country are taking an optimistic view of world conditions in business and industry. William Boyce Thompson of New York, now in California, says that the prosperity which is now gaining a foothold in the United States will soon spread all over the world. For the first time since the war conditions have become stabilized sufficiently to allow the work of rehabilitation to go on without restriction. The war paralyzed every constructive activity and the world is just now beginning to catch up. While the United States has not been hampered like Europe, our industry has not been up to normal, due to the unsettled state of affairs in Europe. And last year was a period of uncertainty which affected all lines of business.

"With the confidence restored by the result of the election last November, this country is ready to go ahead," says Mr. Thompson. "And never in our history has the country been so well supplied with money; bank reports everywhere show the greatest amount of deposits since the United States became a nation; and the rise in sterling in England indicates a revival of prosperity in that country."

Locally, there is every reason for optimism. The forces that have been responsible for the growth of Glendale and all Southern California are still at work. Conditions have not changed, except for the better, for every day this section gains in prestige as an industrial center as well as an all-the-year-round resort. Values in realty did not drop, as might have been expected, during the period of uncertainty preceding the presidential election. More people are coming here as the result of improved agricultural conditions in the east and we have every reason to look for an active and prosperous summer.

THE VALUE OF MONEY

The case of young Osborne Wood is tragic but not novel. There is nothing new in the relationship of sudden fortunes and ruined lives. The only one who can know the value of money is the one who has honestly earned it. A few people have been able to stand sudden prosperity, but more have not.

A poor man was recently awarded $20,000 in a prize contest conducted by a magazine. In a few months the money was gone and he was having domestic difficulties due to the squandering of his fortune and now he is miserable because he has to go back to his workaday life after having tasted the sweets of high living.

Young Wood amassed a fortune on the New York stock market, but it brought him neither happiness nor success, for he did not know how to use it. He has squandered his good name as well as his money.

Chance may bring temporary good fortune, but only right living and continued effort along the right lines can bring happiness and success.

Nine times out of ten sudden prosperity brings misery in its train, but human nature is ever courageous. There are few of us who would not assume our responsibility with brave hearts in the event of becoming suddenly possessed of great wealth.

EXTRA SESSION

Senator Borah maintains that the new Congress should be summoned at once to sit all summer. "To go home and remain idle until next December is a betrayal of public trust and ought to be, and will be, so considered by the people," the Idaho senator says. But comments by the press and the people would indicate that the country does nto crave a Congress in continuous session. The people have never favored the extra session except in emergencies. We are more or less under a tension during the sessions of this body and we are glad to relax when Congress adjourns. The New York Times says the end of the last Congress was welcomed with a sigh of relief in which it is difficult to read a longing for more of the same.

It must be fine to be a detective and have nothing to do but get baffled once in a while.

When you find a man who has no prejudice you have found one who has no convictions.

DON'T SAY WE HAVE AN INADEQUATE AIR FORCE!

Read Healthy Literature

By DR. FRANK CRANE

There is plenty of good literature. All the masters are sound and healthy. It is only the second-raters after all that have the gripes. Gloom, morbid, sickly, crazy stuff is the easiest in the world to write. Just as a child finds the quickest way to attract attention is to whine, so the lesser members of the writing craft soon discover that they can get fame much more easily by dealing in abnormality than by wholesome creative work.

Read Dickens, Shakespeare, Goethe, Victor Hugo. Here is healthy humanity, full-throated laughter, and if they give tragedy it is genuine, rational shadow cast by sunny peaks, and not an enveloping atmosphere of sickly morbidity. Read Macaulay, Emerson, Maeterlinck, Howells, Dumas, O. Henry, Conan Doyle (but not his later spiritualistic vagaries), Charles Reade, Wilkie Collins, anything that leaves the tang of normal life and courage and love. Every morbid book or play is poison to you. Let such things alone. That way madness lies.

Keep away from cults of bitterness. If your religion is one of gloom and dread, get rid of it. "There be gods many and lords many," says the Scripture. If your God is a Detective, a cruel Monster, a Tyrant, let him go. Find a God who is a Father, a Friend, a Savior.

Do not give yourself over wholly to any movement of protest, where the air is one of anger, hate, denunciation, bitterness. No man can safely let such sentiments control his life. What shall it profit a man if he save the whole world and land in hell himself? Besides, hell nor hellish programs of hate, revenge, violence, and the like can ever say anything. They are destructive. If this world is saved at all it will be by love, by understanding, by sympathy and helpfulness. Keep out of any party that has no sunshine.

And cultivate a sense of humor. To see the funny side of a thing always elevates us a little above it. If you can laugh, outwardly, you are superior. Don't take yourself, nor others, nor events, too seriously. "This too shall pass." Cultivate a wise indifference, a genial remoteness, a kindly and human aloofness.

Here, then, is your problem. Don't regard yourself as "a victim" of heredity, or circumstances, or temperament. Your life is not a prison sentence. IT IS YOUR JOB. Go to it! And look pleasant!

Horoscope

Astrologers read this as rather a doubtful day. While Venus and Jupiter are in benefic aspect. Saturn and Mercury are adverse.

Women have a favorable direction of the stars, but they may find themselves hindered by old-time traditions and superstitions, if they undertake big reforms.

This should be a fairly lucky wedding day and will bring happiness to those who have used the head as well as the heart in choosing life partners.

This is luckier for women in business affairs than it is in love, for there is indicated a desire for public life that is in conflict with domestic impulses.

Theaters should benefit, for the evening appears most auspicious for those who seek public favor.

Lawyers come under a most promising sway and will benefit greatly from national service.

This should be a favorable direction of the stars for the President who will gain great respect by policies that nevertheless will subject him to unjust judgment, the seers foretell.

According to ancient lore this should be a fortunate day for those who go fishing and the seers predict increased interest in the sport of Isaak Walton.

Saturn gives warning of discontent among workers who will gain great influence by means of organized activities in which they develop great business acumen.

Co-operation is indicated as one of the general interests of future business methods and it will have an influence on domestic affairs.

Thrift is to be practiced again as a national asset and will be the forerunner of surprising events.

Much travel is to mark the coming summer, when globe-girdling will become as popular as motoring.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year in which both business and domestic affairs are most successful. Girls will receive offers of marriage.

Children born on this day will succeed best when following independent paths. These subjects of Pisces usually are flexible in nature and inclined to be emotional and temperamental.

Today's Poem

DIAPHENIA

Diaphenia like the daffadown dilly,
White as the sun, fair as the lily,
Heigh ho, how I love thee!
I do love thee as my lambs
Are beloved of their dams;
How blest were I if thou would'st prove me.

Diaphenia like the spreading roses,
That in thy sweets all sweets encloses,
Fair sweet, how I do love thee!
I do love thee as each flower
Loves the sun's life-giving power;
For dead, thy breath to life might move me.

Diaphenia like to all things blessed,
When all thy praises are expressed,
Dear joy, how I do love thee!
As the birds do love the spring,
Or the bees their careful king;
Then in requite, sweet virgin, love me!

—Henry Constable.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNAIRD

With all their enormous differences in natural endowment, men agree in one thing, and that is their innate desire to enjoy the pleasure and escape the pains of life; and, in short, to do nothing but that which it pleases them to do, without the least reference to the welfare of the society into which they are born.

CLARK KINNAIRD

It is their inheritance from the long series of ancestors, human and semi-human and brutal, in whom the strength of this innate tendency to self-assertion was the condition of victory in the struggle for existence.

This is the reason assigned by Thomas Huxley for the insatiable hunger for enjoyment of all mankind, which is one of the essential conditions of success in the war with the state of nature outside; and yet the sure agent of destruction of society if allowed free play within.

* * *

The check upon this free play of self-assertion, or natural liberty, which is the necessary condition for the origin of human society, is the product of organic necessities of a different kind from those upon which the constitution of the hive depends.

One of these is the mutual affection of parent and offspring, intensified by the long infancy of the human species.

* * *

But the most important, Huxley believed, is the tendency, so strongly developed in man, to reproduce in himself actions and feelings similar to, correlated with, those of other men.

"Man is the most consummate of all mimics in the animal world; none but himself can draw or model; none comes near him in the scope, variety and exactness of vocal imitation; none is such a master of gesture; when he seems to be impelled thus to imitate for the pure pleasure of it.

"And there is no other such emotional chameleon. By a purely reflex action of the mind we take the hue of passion of those who are about us, or it may be the complementary color.

"It is not by any conscious 'putting one's self in the place' of a joyful or suffering person that the state of mind we call sympathy usually arises; indeed, it is often contrary to one's sense of right, and in spite of one's will, that 'fellow-feeling makes us wondrous kind,' or the reverse."

Who's Who

The garrulous firebrand of world revolution, Gregory Zinovieff, who, with the deposition of Trotzky, became one of the triumvirate which rules Russia, is expected to soon find himself in the same ignominious position into which he pushed the former Red war lord.

A Jewish schoolmaster named Apfelbaum, he became, with the revolution in Russia, Gregory Zinovieff, high priest of Communism. Although he was one of the chief aids of Lenin during the revolution and the ensuing reorganization of Russia, he was not given high office in the Soviet government. Later, for a time, he was governor of Petrograd and a member of the all-Russian central executive committee.

He was elected head of the Third International when it was organized in March, 1919, and has retained that post. He has quite frankly devoted himself to fomenting revolution in all parts of the world.

When Lenin was alive, Zinovieff was considered his mouthpiece, a sort of loquacious Boswell. He is described as a small, corpulent man, with a heavy shock of black hair and the mouth and voice of a petulant woman. He is 40 years old.

Reports of Zinovieff's activities have come from most of the countries in the world. Secretary of State Hughes, in refusing to negotiate with Russia in 1923, published a letter which he charged had been written by Zinovieff to the Workers' Party of America.

In this letter, the organization and training of shooting gangs was urged, in preparation for the days when, as Secretary Hughes expressed it, "the red flag is to be hoisted above the White House in place of the Stars and Stripes." Counter charges were made that the letter was a forgery.

An alleged letter from Zinovieff to British Communists, published by a Conservative paper in England shortly before the election of last fall, played a vital part in the defeat of the Labor party. The Laborites charged the letter was a forgery, done for election purposes. The letter urged revolution.

GLENDALE, LOS ANGELES COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, MARCH 14, 1925

REALTY DRIVE ENDORSED BY L. A. CLUB

'Own Your Home' Campaign of Local, State, National Realtors Okayed

The statewide "Own Your Home" movement received a strong boost at the preliminary luncheon conducted at the Los Angeles City club, when the movement was officially endorsed by a large number of representatives from local boards, the state and national associations.

The proffer of support and cooperation from the newspapers of California was accepted by the meeting, according to Clifton J. Platt, state chairman of the California Real Estate association "Own Your Home" movement, who presided. It was voted to call upon the Pasadena conference of the "Own Your Home" movement to be held at the Hotel Maryland all day March 21 to provide the machinery to make a great success of the "Own Your Home" months designated to be April and October, 1925.

The meeting unanimously passed a resolution inviting Governor Richardson to attend the conference and calling on him to issue a state proclamation in furtherance of the realtors' ideal "to make every Californian a homeowner."

Pasadena Meet

The Pasadena conference will begin at 9 o'clock in the morning and will have for its feature a two-minute speech contest. Representatives of the southern boards, some fifty in number, will compete for an "Own Your Home" trophy offered by the state chairman, and interesting talks on the value of owning a home are expected.

The churches, the schools, the service clubs, the theatres, chambers of commerce and the women's clubs will be invited to cooperate with the California Real Estate association in putting over a statewide campaign that it is estimated will increase the number of home owners by many thousands.

Among Speakers

Among the speakers at the conference will be John Steven McGroarty, author of the Mission Play, and the National association of Real Estate boards and the California Real Estate association officers, including D. Richard Ainsley of Fresno, the state president.

A large delegation will come to the conference from Oakland and San Francisco, where the "Own Your Home" conference will be held April 18, the anniversary of the San Francisco fire.

Among those to be invited will be State Real Estate Commissioner Edwin T. Keiser; Freeman H. Bloodgood, chairman of the State association Legislative committee; Robert A. Swink, vice president of the State association; Fred E. Reed of Oakland, vice-president, and Frank Ryan, Los Angeles, Pacific coast director of the National association of Real Estate boards. The Rev. Father Crow will represent Bishop John J. Cantwell; Dr. John Franklin West, superintendent of schools, Pasadena; C. E. PALM TREES ON PARKING IS PLANNED

Uniform Type Is Urged By Commission; Start On Chevy Chase Drive

"A step toward a plan by which certain streets of the city will be beautified by parkways containing trees of the same species will be made in the planting of cocus plumosis palms along Chevy Chase drive," L. H. Wilson, president of the Glendale Park and Recreation commission, reported today. "Uniform planting of trees on a street will greatly add to its beauty and, in this case, the commission chose the graceful palms as typical of Southern California and most suitable for this wide, improved street.

"We hope to follow a similar plan on many other streets, and property-owners contemplating planting trees are asked to get in touch with the commission in regard to kinds of trees, their distance apart and the distance from the curbing. A plat is being prepared by Sam Warren, park superintendent, showing the types of trees recommended for the different streets and this may be consulted. The park commission meets regularly on Wednesday mornings, when interested persons may attend.

Ask Co-Operation

"The park commission is also asking property owners to aid in preserving trees already growing, the shortage of rain this year having seriously impaired the growth of over 75 per cent. The rainfall to date has done little good to the deep tree roots and citizens are urged to dig trenches around the trees, water them long and well, and cover the trenches to retain the moisture. This need is shown by the many shade trees in the parkways and on private property, according to Mr. Warren and L. T. Rowley, of the commission, who recently made an investigation tour of the city."

State Realty Officers See Lawmakers Work

Several of the state offcers including President D. Richard Ainsley and Secretary Glenn D. Willaman, are now at Sacramento representing the real estate interests in matters of legislation, State Real Estate Commissioner Edwin T. Keiser also is in San Francisco.

Among the matters coming up for passage are the research work by the department; modification of the penalty to be a misdemeanor for selling real estate without a license; bringing in of those who negotiate the sale or exchange of property leases under the act; consideration of an amendment to place street solicitors and "barkers' under the real estate act; and amendment of the Civil Code to provide for equal division of commissions in estate sales. A conference will be held with Senator Herbert C. Jones, Senator Arthur H. Breed, formerly Building and Loan Commissioner Walker, Commissioner Keiser and others on the so-called mortgage loan bureau bill. The state association has considered this legislation at considerable length. It is the desire of real estate brokers that they remain under the real estate department, and the intent of the bill, according to Senator Jones and Mr. Walker is that all mortgage loan companies that buy and sell mortgages with money derived from the sale of stock or certificates be supervised by the corporation commissioner.

Grand View Church To Hold Annual Meeting

The every-member canvass will be held Sunday afternoon, March 22. Elders Moody and Davis, and George R. Miller and J. A. Martin have been appointed budget and canvass committee.

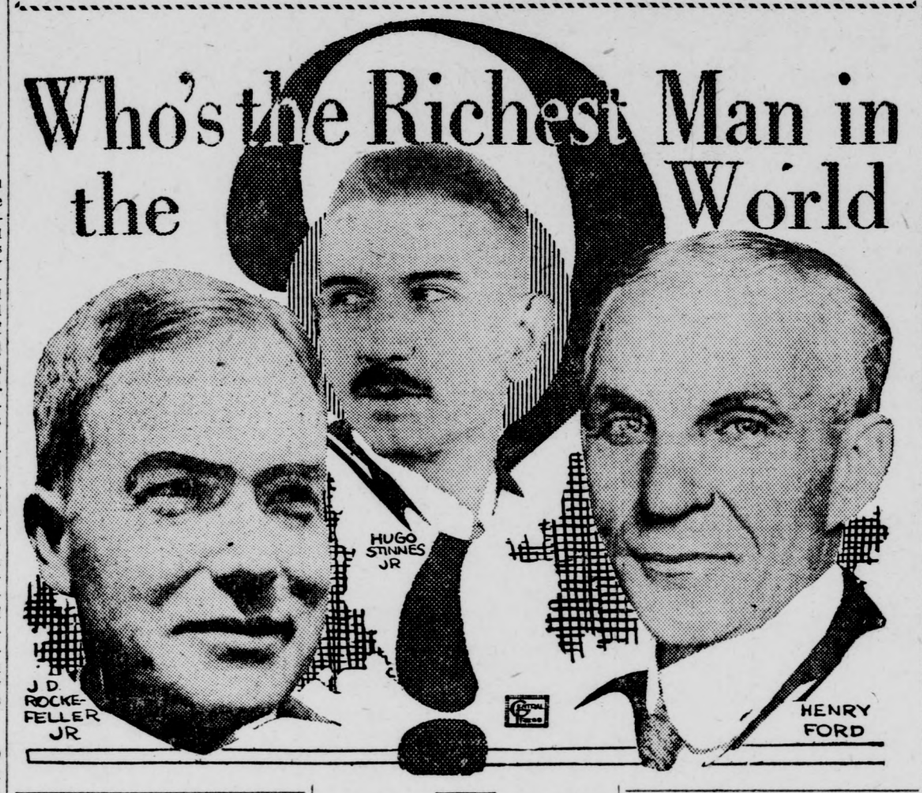
'YOUNG' PREACHER

BOSTON, March 14.—There's a clergyman 100 years old here who is spry enough to perform such little odd jobs in the ministry as a marriage ceremony.

Question of Wealth Unsettled

HUGO STINNES, JR., and his brother may have the largest amount of coin in the world, while JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR., and HENRY FORD have a lot of real United States shekels tucked away in their little banks, strong boxes and perhaps a safe or two.



License Qualification Test Gets Cooperation

The local boards of the California Real Estate association are assisting State Real Estate Commissioner Edwin T. Keiser in the enforcement of the qualification test as applied to new applicants for broker licenses to sell real estate in California. The examination is being conducted by the local boards through their committees. The result of the examination together with the recommendation of the local boards is the guide for the real estate department, according to Commissioner Keiser.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, March 14.—The Arden Players of Occidental college scored another hit last night with their annual play, "Enter Madame." The curtain rose on a breezy scene and came down on the final fast-moving act without one dull moment having intervened. In short, the play was a "knockout," in the campus vernacular.

This afternoon from 1 to 2 o'clock was "Story Hour" again at the Eagle Rock branch of the Los Angeles Public Library. Miss Marjorie Ball, assistant librarian, with a group of children from the kindergarten to the sixth grade gathered about her, read fairy tales that held them spellbound. To Mrs. Blanche A. Gardiner, librarian, goes credit for the idea, which was a feature of the local branch several years ago and has recently been revived.

The Eagle Rock Merchants' association will meet for luncheon Monday noon at the Black Cat Tea room, 1722 Colorado boulevard, announces Mrs. A. E. Reiter, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, sponsoring body. Those who have been members of this organization since the start are unanimous in their opinion of the advantages to be derived from its operation and the business men of Eagle Rock who have not yet enrolled in the ranks are urged to communicate with Mrs. Reiter, who will give them all information regarding membership.

The first lot of Eagle Rock booster plates have all been sold and another lot will be delivered immediately. Interest in the sale of these plates has been very marked and it is expected that at least 500 will be disposed of in equipping car owners of this section.

Mr. G. W. Nations of 2036 Yosemite drive and O. F. Kroehle, local realtor, enjoyed a deep sea fishing trip recently from which they returned with a gunny-sack filled with fish, which they distributed among their friends.

C.; Buffalo, N. Y.; Cleveland, Ohio, Davenport, Iowa, and South Bend, Indiana. He will be gone a month.

By JACKSON V. JACOBS
Written for The Evening News

LONDON, March 14.—The title of "richest man in the world" may have passed from an American to a German with the consummation of the deal which gives Hugo Stinnes, Jr., and his brother, Edmund, control of the huge Castiglione industrial interests. The deal makes them the dominant factors in industry in Austria, Czecho-Slovakia and several Balkan countries, as well as Germany.

The wealth of young Hugo Stinnes, Jr., and his brother cannot be estimated exactly. The fortune of their father, the elder Hugo, "uncrowned king of Germany," was declared to be between $100,000,000 and $500,000,000 at the time of his death, a year ago. The Stinnes interests have expanded enormously in the last few months, and the fortune must be much more than that now.

There is some doubt as to whether John D. Rockefeller, Jr., or Henry Ford is the richest man in America. The fortunes of both are estimated in the region of five hundred millions. Ford is usually given the higher rating, but there is no exact means of estimating the total wealth of either, because of the constant shifting in values of stocks, and realty. But if the Stinnes fortune is now beyond $500,000,000, then it may represent the greatest mass of money ever gotten together by one family.

Standing of Wealth

A recent comparison gives the following as the world's richest men:

Henry Ford	$500,000,000
John D. Rockeleller	500,000,000
Duke of Westminster	200,000,000
Sir Basil Zaharoff	125,000,000
Gaekwar of Baroda	125,000,000
Baron H. Mitsui	100,000,000
J. B. Duke	100,000,000
George F. Baker	100,000,000
T. B. Walker, of Minneapolis	100,000,000

Stinnes is omitted because no estimate can be made at this time.

The Stinnes interests owe their present dominance in Europe to the collapse of the Castiglione fortune, which was blamed largely on J. Pierpont Morgan's rescue of the French franc a year ago.

M. Castiglione, who as head of the Alpine Montan Corp. and twelve affiliated iron and smelting corporations, constituting the largest company in Austria, equivalent to the United States Steel Corp. in America, was the biggest business man in Austria.

Loan Hit Castiglione

When the Morgan loan sent the French franc from 28 to 16 to the dollar, M. Castiglione was one of those hardest hit, his banks failing and all his corporations finding themselves in difficulty.

This was a time for the Stinnes to act. They already had participated in Castiglione's business when they aided the latter to purchase 70 per cent of the Alpine Montan works from the Fiat Co. in Italy. British capital supported them when American business men refused to invest before the Dawes plan was signed. The Stinneses and Castiglione obtained two hundred thousand shares, dividing them equally. Now the Stinneses have all the shares.

Realty Boards Urged To Try For Contest

A stirring appeal to all of the 102 local real estate boards in the California Real Estate association to engage in the achievement contest for 1925, to be decided at the Fresno convention next October, has been issued by Sidney F. Woody, of Santa Monica, the state chairman. Two cups will be awarded, one being the C. C. C. Tatum trophy which goes to the board with a paid secretary making the best showing during the year, not alone in community work, but for its members and for the state and national associations. The second trophy is awarded by California Real Estate magazine to the boards having unpaid or part time secretaries. According to the state association at least twenty-five of the boards will participate in the contest.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, March 14.—Local water and light rates have been lowered to make them identical with the Los Angeles rates, by passage of a new city ordinance.

Heretofore the Burbank water and light rates have been sufficiently higher than the Los Angeles rates to cause industries in some instances to hesitate when it became a choice between Burbank and Los Angeles as a site for future activities. This has also provided a talking point of propagandists for annexation and, it is held, has been one of the main standbys in their plea for consolidation.

In passing the new water and light rate ordinance, the Board of Trustees, has given Burbank a big boost, industrially, it is felt. The minimum light rate heretofore has been eighty cents The revised minimum rate is sixty cents. The minimum water rate heretofore has been $1.25. The revised minimum rate is seventy-five cents.

A resolution was also passed at the last meeting of the board which provides for a change in regard to extension of the city water system. This resolution provides, in effect, four things: first, a uniform charge of eighty cents per front foot for all water main extensions; second, the rescinding of rules governing refund agreements for water main extensions; third, fire hydrants to be installed in every block when water mains are laid, instead of waiting until a territory is built up; fourth, in the future nothing less than four-inch cast iron pipe to be used. This will eventually provide the city with a high grade water system, and will lead to a reduction in fire insurance rates, according to W. E. French of the public service department.

H. H. Paul and family, who have been living at 727 Magnolia avenue, have left for their old home at Dalla Center, Iowa.

NEW BOOM IN BUILDING IS EXPECTED

Next Month To Find Work Delayed Over Winter In Full Swing

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Within a month from today the building industry again will be in full swing in practically every part of the country. Work that now is being held back will swell the total of activity and add millions to the purchasing power of the nation. For in spite of every effort to encourage all the year round building construction still falls into a slump in the winter months.

Builders state that it costs approximately 5 per cent less to build in the winter than in summer, despite the expense entailed by protection of workmen and materials. The decline in costs during the winter months is not alone due to cheaper materials although normally lumber, brick, cement and other commodities are lower. It is due also to the fact that labor in the building trades then is in large supply. It is therefore not necessary to pay overtime or bonuses. Workmen are anxious for the winter jobs and work almost 10 per cent more efficiently than at other seasons, according to one of the largest contractors in New York.

Public Buildings

The construction which will speed up fastest after April 1 will be that involved in erection of public buildings, retail store structures and single family dwellings. For the time being plans for additional hotels, apartments and large dwellings are not numerous. It is expected that the total building expenditure for the next four months will be fully equal to that of the corresponding period of 1924 which was a record breaking year.

It is doubtful if the amount of work that will be done in the larger centers will equal that of last year, but on the other hand, the construction in smaller cities and country districts will far surpass that of any period since the war. For example, the work done in New York and New Jersey in the last two months has been nearly 40 per cent under that for the corresponding period last year. In the same period there were gains of 36 per cent in the middle Atlantic states, 18 per cent in the southeast and 14 per cent in the northwest.

Brick Production

In view of the trends indicated above, brick manufacturers are preparing to speed up production. They look forward to a most prosperous year, especially in view of the demand for dwellings. In the middle west, for example, about 65 per cent of the brick made goes into dwellings. The makers also are preparing a brisk campaign to sell the farmer brick. For a time the hollow tile and cement manufacturers took the lead in filling the farmers' demand for building materials.

A survey of the country indicates that the composite price of brick at present is about $13 a thousand. Few fluctuations are expected by manufacturers or contractors, and the total output is expected to exceed 9,000,000,000, the record established in 1924. William Carver, consulting architect of the Common Brick Manufacturers' association, declares that an entirely new type of wall has been developed this winter, especially adapted for small dwelling construction. He says it is the lowest cost masonry construction yet devised. It is made of common brick, four inches wide, with four-inch pilasters bonded into the wall at frequent intervals.

Wage Scale Staple

Ralph P. Stoddard, secretary of the Brick Manufacturers' association, declares few changes will be made in the scale of wages this year at the brick yards, and payrolls will be increased rather than dimished. Boom conditions are reported by the Brick Makers of the Pacific northwest. Foreign competition is being felt along the Atlantic seaboard with shipments coming in from Germany and Holland.

Tennessee and Kentucky are counting much on the development of Muscle Shoals. Manufacturers in the south say that if that project really gets under way, building operations in that section will be ten times the output of the kilns.

MARINE ENGINE

BELFAST, March 14.—Efforts are being made to form a British corporation to work the Whaley marine oil engine, an American invention which is claimed to be the most perfect oil engine ever brought out.

IMMIGRATION

SACRAMENTO, March 14.—Immigrants from foreign countries in 1924 settled in California to the number of 57,946, as compared with 39,093 in the previous year.

'Oh, Doctor!'

Scene from "Oh, Doctor!" at the Glendale theatre. It's a Universal picture, featuring Reginald Denny. The story was written by Harry Leon Wilson.

Reginald Denny is coming to the Glendale theatre Sunday for a three-day run in "Oh, Doctor!" the popular novel by Harry Leon Wilson that ran serially in The Saturday Evening Post. The supporting cast includes Mary Astor, Lucille Ward, Otis Harlan, Wm. V. Mong, Clarence Geldert, Helen Lynch and Martha Mattox.

"Oh, Doctor!" is the story of a young man who since childhood had been coddled and nursed and made to believe that only by the greatest care could he live. Through a series of humorous events the story emphasizes the manner of life he leads.

Then comes the news that he will inherit a large fortune if he can hold on to life for three more years. From that point "Oh, Doctor!" is a riot of speed and fun. A beautiful nurse is obtained. The hero falls in love with the nurse and love drives out of his mind forever the delusion that he is sick. There follows a series of breath-taking athletic feats that fully convince everyone he is in perfect health. And in the end, of course, as it should, love triumphs.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, March 14.—Again Tujunga votes on incorporation. Tuesday, April 21, is the day set by the supervisors at the hearing last Monday. In the meantime, Tujunga looks forward to a lively campaign arguing the pros and cons of incorporation.

The boundaries of the proposed city have been modified somewhat from the map presented at the hearing. Hillhaven and the eastern section of Tujunga are excluded. The eastern boundary runs fifty feet east of Haines Canyon road. The western boundary is the present boundary line separating the school districts of Tujunga and Sunland.

To open the incorporation campaign, the Brotherhood of the Tujunga Community church will arrange a debate at a mass meeting, date to be announced later. Both sides will be represented by good speakers. Rules of debate will be adopted and announced later. It is desired to present both sides of the subject in a logical manner, so that the public may be fully informed before casting their votes, on election day, which is set for April 21.

The Tujunga Chamber of Commerce held its regular meeting last Tuesday evening. The meeting was brief, quiet and peaceful. The silver cup won at the Tournament of Roses on New Year's day as sixth prize for floats by civic bodies, was brought in for exhibition. The cup is to be on display at the Tujunga Drug Co., and later in Mr. Conway's store, in order that all residents may admire, and realize that Tujunga was progressive enough to secure one of the coveted prizes.

It was reported that W. D. Stover had been elected by the board of directors to fill the vacancy made by Mr. Haines' forced absence.

C. R. Morgan was present, and made a request for additional lights, and extension of gas mains in his Blanchard Canon subdivision. It was stated that additional lights could not be secured for some months, that the extension of gas mains would depend upon the number of patrons available.

Announcement was made at the meeting of the Roundtable to be held at Sunland, March 16th. A good representation from Tujunga was urged, as the matter of flood control, which is of utmost importance to the entire valley, would be discussed.

Three contributions of $10 each were made toward the advertising fund started last month, the donors being George Slusher, D. A. Johnston and Judge Breidt.

Tujunga and Sunland day at the Mission Play is set for Saturday, March 28th. The Kiwanis club has this matter in charge, and has arranged with the transportation company for free transportation to San Gabriel for all who desire to avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing this historic play. Two and three-dollar tickets are now on sale for 85 cents. The Tujunga Drug Co. wishes all who desire to be accommodated with transportation, to leave their names at the drug store in order that a sufficient number of busses will be provided.

Mrs. India Whetsel and daughter Geneva, who have spent the winter in Tujunga, started last Monday on their return trip to their home in Indiana.

H. Irwin Farr and family have enlarged their store building, adding additional living rooms, and have now a commodious building.

REALTY BOARD DIRECTORS DUE TREAT

Pleasure Program In San Diego For Directors Includes Banquet

One of the treats for the board of directors of the California Real Estate association and their friends at the quarterly meeting in San Diego, April 4, will be a Spanish dinner. It will be served under the San Diego Realty board auspices at Ramona's marriage place in the old town of San Diego, and Thomas P. Getz, the veteran lecturer and historian of the harbor of the Sun City, will deliver a lecture to the realtors on the early days. The wife of every director and board president has been especially invited.

President D. Richard Ainsley has already received assurances from more than fifty directors that they would attend the meeting which will begin at 9 o'clock in the morning.

Pleasure Program

On Sunday morning the directors and their wives will be the guests of the San Diego realtors in a trip about the harbor, including a visit to Point Loma, and in the afternoon the Republic of Mexico and the races will be included in the itinerary arranged by the host board.

The division of local board presidents of the state association and the California association of realty board secretaries will meet on Saturday morning at the Hotel San Diego which is official headquarters.

San Diego arrangements are in charge of President Hal G. Hotchkiss and Secretary John N. D. Griffith and for the state association District Vice-President Stephen Barnson is chairman. Last Saturday night the San Diego Realty board held its annual banquet with over 400 present, and extended the formal invitation to the state association.

Second Meeting

This will be the second meeting of the state board of directors for 1925, and it will probably be the largest meeting prior to the state convention. The California Real Estate association consists of fourteen districts, each officered by a vice-president, and every one of the boards has at least one director. The total attendance of directors is 1127, and it is predicted that more than fifty of the local boards will be represented. Large delegations are coming from San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, San Jose and Santa Cruz.

"In the birthplace of California where the first mission was built, in the shadow of the great empire builder Father Junipero Serra we will hold our sessions, and continue to carry forward as loyal realtors the great work of state building," President Ainsley declared in a statement to the press. "We invite every board in the state to participate, and we are particularly gratified to learn that a goodly number of realtors from every board south of the Tehachapi will attend."

Electrical Workers To Hold Banquet Monday

The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 691, of Glendale, will give a dinner for members and their families, on Monday, March 16, at 6:45 p. m., at their hall, 108 North Brand boulevard. At 8:30 p. m. an entertainment will be given under the auspices of the Emerson School of Self-Expression and the Emerson Dramatic club. Mrs. C. E. Cleghorn, whose ability as a reader is well known to Glendale audiences, will give the delightful skit, "American Beauties." Mrs. Martha Hunter, who has appeared with much success in several plays and sketches this season, will present "Husbands Is Husbands." A sketch will be given by Charles Sawhill and Robert Rhodes. These clever juvenile entertainers need no introduction to Glendale as they have made many successful appearances in this city. Mrs. G. E. Murphy, who is especially versatile as an impersonator of Irish dialect will present "Maggie McCarthy Goes on a Diet." The Emerson Dramatic club which has made several successful appearances this season, will give "Frank Glynn's Wife," a comedy containing some clever dialogue and many good laughs.

Through the courtesy of J. A. Newton Electric Co., a radio program will also be given. All electrical workers of Glendale are cordially invited.

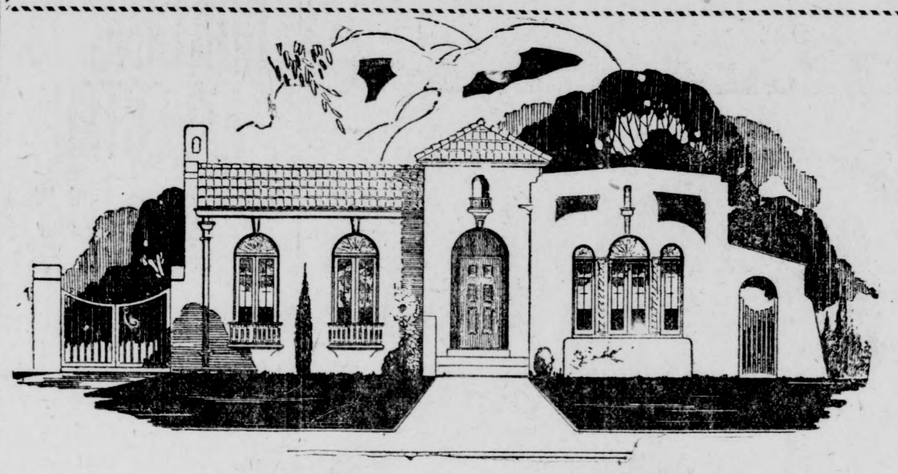
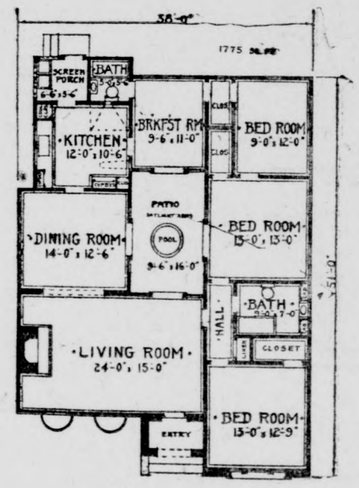
Home Beautiful Is Designed

Adopt this plan to build from and you will be the proudest home-owner in the world; patio with fountain, cement floor and art leaded skylight are unique features of residence, the architect's sketch of which is shown below.





• FLOOR • PLAN • NO. 1960

Permanent home owners promote industrial contentment and are America's most valuable citizens. They are reliable, dependable and consistent. Refer to any section of the country where business is booming and where strikes are rare, where the workmen are happy and contented and where children are growing up with rosy faces and strong bodies and minds, and one will find the secret to be permanent home ownership.

Rent paying leads to discontentment, discouragement, creates dissatisfaction and want in old age; buying or building one's home means eventual ease and comfort and assures protection for the years to come.

The exterior of the beautiful home shown herewith shows conclusively the careful study and competent executed efforts embodied, and the interior is divided into one of the most satisfying arrangements one could hope to find. The living room, a spacious affair with high cove ceiling; the patio with fountain, cement floor, art-leaded glass skylight; three bedrooms with large airy closets; two baths, the breakfast room, one of the most attractive ever seen, and a kitchen that is a model of perfection are all included.

No other home of equal size has ever been created embodying more distinctive ideas with complete harmony reflected in every detail.

Additional information about this home can be obtained by writing to the building department, Glendale Evening News.

BETTER BUSINESS BUILDING HOUSES

Buyers More Particular And Demand Best Work At Lowest Prices

By HAROLD H. CAMPBELL
Builder, 418 Lawson Bldg.

It is of interest to note that the buyers are responsible for better business in house building; instead of buying any house at a price much too high, they are now shopping. Consequently builders must compete among themselves in offering a better built house with attractive lines and many conveniences, at a price that is right, in order that their houses will sell. This naturally tends to eliminate the builder without a conscience, and exorbitant profit and poor construction. With such conservative buying there surely should be good business in the building lines, for we are now freer from speculation than formerly.

It is now necessary for the up-to-date builder to be ever alert to the changing styles. The buyer is looking around, so the builder must do likewise. Better buying means better business and a better home city. There are many worthy contractors and it is easy for buyers, or people wishing to have homes built, to know and thus be safe rather than sorry. For, in spite of all protection, it is the builders' game and he must be worthy of confidence.

HARDWOOD FLOOR SHOWS ECONOMY

Add Service and Beauty To Any Home; Known to Last More Than Century

By J. H. ROHR
of Layrite Hardwood Floors

You naturally associate oak flooring with high prices on account of its supreme advantages and its traditions. You couple the thought of oak flooring with wealth, just as you do the thought of silk, marble, mahogany, gold and silver. You feel that the flooring which is the most beautiful, durable and sanitary form of flooring must be expensive.

The fact is, it costs less than ordinary flooring, plus carpet, to start with. As far as modern homes are concerned it is practically indestructible, for it has been known to last over 100 years. It improves with age. Many of the finest floors in America are to be found in colonial mansions, better than when they were laid, before the Revolution.

Oak makes the flooring demanded by living ideals of today. No building is too grand for it, for there is no better flooring. No home is too modest, for it is an economy in any building. And now oak flooring prices are lower than they have been in many years. For the price of an ordinary floor lamp, a library table, or a davenport, you can floor the average room with fine, dustless oak flooring.

A special grade of 3/4-inch oak flooring is made to lay over worn floors, using the old floor as a sub-floor. The cost is small, and the effect is wonderful. No amount of costly furnishings can duplicate the elegance and charm that a fine oak floor gives to a room.

BOOST BURBANK FOR COLLEGE SITE

San Fernando Valley People Meet To Urge Choice There By Regents

Representatives from all cities in the San Fernando valley met at the Burbank city hall yesterday afternoon and decided to appoint a large committe to bring pressure to bear on the university regents in the selection of Burbank as the site for the proposed change in location of University of California, southern branch.

SIX CANDIDATES SEEK CITY OFFICE

Henry A. Schaffer Is Latest To Secure Nomination For Treasurer

Henry A. Schaeffer of 1280 Mariposa avenue secured a nomination petition this morning from A. J. Van Wie, city clerk, for the office of city treasurer. This makes six candidates who will seek this office at the election of April 14. The other five are Miss Ruth W. Kern, 332 West Harvard street, deputy city treasurer since 1921; C. E. Jones, 206 North Louise street; E. S. Brown, 1239 South Maryland avenue; M. E. Plasterer, 1124 East California avenue; and W. G. Lofftus, 1241 East Orange Grove avenue.

Mr. Schaeffer was born at Austin, Tex., in 1880, and after completing a public school education there, attended Rockdale college, Rockdale, Tex. He served as purchasing agent of the city of El Paso for several years; was then secretary-treasurer of the Union Cypress Co., Hopkins, Fla., and later worked for Wilson & Co., Chicago meat packers. During the past year he was in charge of statistics for the government in the foot and mouth disease campaign waged in California.

PLUMBING TRADE SHOWS INCREASE

Jewel City Concern Sees Better Business With Spring's Approach

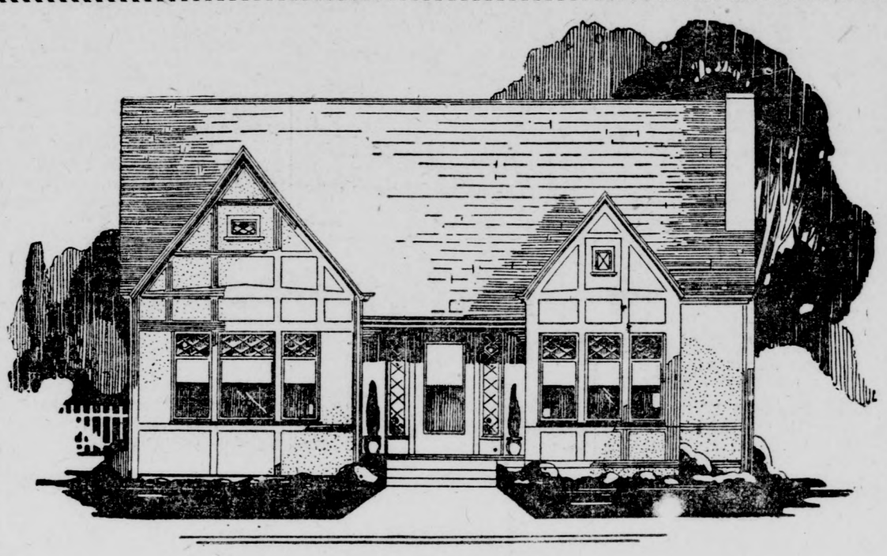
G. L. Berryman, proprietor of the Jewell City Plumbing Co., in making comments about business conditions for the month of March states that in his opinion business is fast regaining normal. He thinks that the close of this month will see business in general ahead of this period, last year.

With building constantly increasing the Jewell City Plumbing Co., has received its share of this business and is growing rapidly to be one of Glendale's foremost establishments.

Ward Floor Furnaces are handled by this firm and they unqualifiedly guarantee them as most satisfactory for use in this section of the country where the use of gas is common.

Typical English Bungalow

Here is a home of rare distinctiveness, unusual in the extreme, far removed from old abodes of hewed logs that have now passed into history. No detail has been overlooked in planning the residence pictured below that would make it more attractive.



A carefully planned home, created by competent designers, reflects distinctiveness, individuality, a joy and a pride to those who call it home, and, because of its attractiveness and convenience, commands respect and favorable comment from friends.

Pride of home ownership is one of the strongest of all civilizing influences and is the one dominating factor for happiness, contentment, love and devotion, assuring perpetual protection.

There was a time when a man went out into the virgin forest, felled trees, hewed logs and actually built his own home, with no other help than that of his brave wife, but that is history.

Today, with the many details required in planning to make the home modern, it is necessary to secure competent advice. One wants to be reasonably sure the best of ideas and materials are incorporated, that the exterior be attractive, the rooms convenient and well arranged, with durable materials and fixtures used throughout, and in these one's home town merchants can best advise.

The home pictured herewith is a typical English bungalow of such rare distinctiveness as to make it unusual in the extreme. Its general exterior design and arrangement shows the great care which has been given in executing the plans, not one detail has been overlooked that would add to its attractiveness and make it more practical and substantial.

The same competent thought and efforts are incorporated into the well-arranged and conveniently-grouped rooms, and surely a plan embodying so many popular and practical features cannot help but make strong appeals and create desires for a home to be built from the complete, detailed plans, further information of which may be obtained by communicating with the Building Department, Glendale Evening News.

QUALITY IN HOME BUILDING URGED

Poorly Constructed Places Are Waste of Money, Declares Designer

By JOHN T. BIBB
Written for The Evening News

A cheaply constructed house is like a cheap suit of clothes. It never looks well and likely will not "hold it's shape." Whether building a $2500 or a $10,000 house, it is a serious mistake to sacrifice quality for quantity.

There is nothing depreciates so rapidly and is such a detriment to the community as a cheap, poorly built dwelling. From the owner's standpoint, it is much more costly in the long run, than to build for quality and permanency.

The average person has only a limited knowledge of building construction; therefore, the tendency is to attempt to get more house for his money than a high standard of quality will permit.

It therefore behooves one contemplating building to employ the services of a competent designer and builder. Then let him plan and build a quality house in the proper proportions to keep within the price limit.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Unhappy Children

"Dear Doctor: I have been following your advice to reduce for the past three months and have lost slightly over thirty-five pounds. I am still reducing because I have to lose six or eight pounds more. I am five feet, seven inches tall. I did weigh 185 and now am 148.

"I will never be able to thank you enough as I feel sure I have spent at least $100 trying to find the royal road that was without effort. Had I known of your method, I could have spent so much happier a girlhood and childhood, as I was extremely large and unsightly during that period. Many, many thanks.—Mrs. S."

Apparently there is no royal road to anything that is worth while.

The vital subjects of nutrition and normal weight will undoubtedly be taught in the grades soon, and when it is, we can hope for more healthy and happy adults, as well as more healthy and happy children.

Not many realize that overweight does mean unhappiness even in childhood. The fat child is not a happy child any more than an undernourished child.

Except for the extremely rare cases that are due to disturbances of the internal secretory glands, overweight in children is due to overeating for the needs, just as it is in the adult.

I am glad you wrote, Mrs. S. and do write again. You will probably find that you won't have any trouble in keeping normal weight when you once get down to normal, for you will have lost your taste for excessive amounts of the fattening foods.

Bunions

Mrs. W.—Bunions are always caused by the wearing, at some time, of shoes that did not fit, usually those that were too short. Children especially should have shoes large enough and long enough to allow for growth.

Bunions are partial dislocations of the great toe. Eventually the toe joint becomes enlarged and inflamed and the bursa or sack on the joint becomes inflamed. Now a corn may come on that. Multiple misery. The only real cure for bunions is the operative removal of the projecting joint. This is done very successfully by skillful surgeons.

Temporary helps are bunion plasters, and, of course, correct fitting shoes. Soaking the feet in hot water with a heaping tablespoon of epsom salts to the quart of water will help relieve the swelling and the pain.

Abnormal Hair Growth

Mrs. M.—The growth of hair on the faces and bodies of yourself and three children is not normal. We believe that there is some disturbance of some of the glands of internal secretion when this happens. Can't you go to a physician who specializes in internal medicine?

"Meanwhile see that your diets are balanced. It has been shown experimentally on animals that the glands of internal secretion can be profoundly upset by diets that are lacking in vitamins and mineral elements or unbalanced otherwise.

(If you are following the column from day to day you know that I am advising liberal amounts of the vegetables, especially the green leaf vegetables, fruits and milk. Children should have three glasses at least and you should have two glasses. Include also whole grain cereals and bread and nuts. In other words, a more natural diet.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s.a.s.e., if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

I have received several letters from young housekeepers asking this question: "Do camphor balls and cedar chips kill moths and prevent their eggs from hatching out if already in the stored garment?"

My answer is: "No, but the camphor balls and cedar chips will keep outside moths away from the stored article." Before storing your woolens, however, you should rid them of moth eggs and larvae as follows:

Brush the woolens out of doors, paying especial attention to seams, pockets, the under sides of collars and other places where dust lodges, then sun and air them for several days. Next, go over them with gasoline or benzine, freshening and removing spots; these fluids do not injure color, but they must be used away from heat or flame because they are extremely inflammable.

Some wool materials are not injured by being saturated with formalin; this method will absolutely kill moth eggs and larvae, so it is worth using when possible. But do not use it on the garment or blanket without first experimenting on a small sample, or inconspicuous corner of the article to learn its effect.

The next step, after brushing, sunning and cleansing the woolens in this manner is to pack them away. There are three popular methods of doing this: 1. In tar or camphor bags which are manufactured for the purpose. 2. In home-made and similarly shaped bags of newspapers with all cracks sealed with gummed paper-tape. 3. In heavy cardboard suit-boxes, with all cracks sealed with paper tape. By any of these methods, the woolens are protected from outside moths. It is well to put camphor balls, cedar chips, tobacco, wisps of cotton wet with oil of cedar and tied in muslin bags, and other such moth-repellants inside the bundles, in the folds of the woolens, to make the work doubly safe. Another preventive measure is to hang the bundles in mid-air, suspended from the ceiling, in a light, airy place.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman in care of the "Efficient Housekeeping" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

The Pacific Electric Railway Co. has agreed to clean up and oil the entire right of way through Glendale, according to Virgil B. Stone, city manager, who negotiated the agreement. The length of the right-of-way is roughly five miles.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

SOME DON'TS TO REMEMBER

Years ago a great many women used liquid powder and rouge because the liquid powder gave a curious transparent quality to the skin and because the liquid rouge spread more easily. Since then many improvements have been made in cosmetics, but I still don't believe in either of these liquid preparations. For one thing a high percentage of alcohol is necessary to make these, and that must dry the skin, even if the rest of the ingredients are harmless.

So, don't use liquid rouge or powder. Work to make your skin naturally so clear that nothing is needed but a little powder to keep off the shine. And if you must use red to tint your cheeks, use the compact powder rouge which, if applied over powder, and then powdered again on top of that, will spread evenly enough so its artificiality is not apparent. This way if the rouge is good is a harmless way.

Another "don't" is don't use curling fluids. Never clog up the pores of the hair; when you put anything on it, put on something to do it good. I know nine or more hair curling manufacturers will tell me their products are harmless; no doubt, I am objecting to the principle not the product. Cold cream is good for the skin, but you wouldn't go around for weeks with a cold cream pack over your face. The skin, and the hair, must breathe, therefore the pores must be clean, active, and able to do their work.

If you must curl your hair, the best way is to roll it on soft kid curlers, which can neither break nor burn it. Now and then a fairly warm iron can be used, but too hot an iron makes the ends of the hair dry and brittle, prevents growth and does a lot of harm. With about 50 styles of bobs and shingles, and even more for long hair, some way can be found without employing curling irons and liquid curling fluids.

Young Mother—One of the symptoms of adenoids is sleeping with the mouth open, but now that the baby has had them removed, she will likely not do this any more. Toe nails should always be cut straight across, and do not cut down into the corners, as this leads to ingrowing nails.

John F. D.—When perspiration is so excessive as to be an annoyance, even when one is not exercising very much, it shows there is lowered vitality, nervousness, or a run down condition. The cure for it is to build up the general health by careful diet, and a healthy life with plenty of air, sun and exercise.

Mrs. Thomas D.—Water waving is a simple method when the combs are used that are sold for this purpose. The only thing you have to do is to dampen the hair with water, and push the hair into waves with the combs, and leave this way to dry in shape.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Honor Mrs. Braden

Honoring Mrs. Sallie Campbell Braden, deputy grand matron, members of Glen Eyrie chapter, Order of Eastern Star, held a banquet last night at Masonic temple, South Brand boulevard. The banquet hall had been attractively decorated in a color scheme of lavender and white. The honor table, at which were seated Mrs. Braden and officers of the chapter, was decorated with a basket of lavender and white iris with streamers of smilax adding to the decoration. The smaller tables had centerpieces of lavender sweetpeas. Lavender crepe paper favor baskets were other decorative features.

After the guests and members had been seated, Miss Kulp sang, "I Wonder What's Become of Sallie?" As she was singing this, Mrs. Braden came into the room, escorted by Mrs. Mae Warrick, worthy matron, and Frank Deckett, worthy patron. After the banquet the company went to the lodge hall, where Mrs. Warrick presided. Exemplification of lodge work was given. LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, March 14.—Long before 8 o'clock last night the standing room only sign was hung out on the La Crescenta school where the Glendale Union High school orchestra and glee club gave a meritorious program, the proceeds of which go to the local Parent-Teacher association treasury. Opening the program the orchestra played "Our Nominee," a spirited march by Ersberger, followed by airs from "The Mikado."

The entire program was in keeping with the standard set by the orchestra. Particularly popular was the playlet, a clever comedy staged and directed by Harold Brewster, entitled "Getting Off." The work of the small interfering, romantc little sister being specially well done by Winifred Brewer and the grandma in the wheel chair was a superb bit of acting as done by Ruth Price. Edith Bayley as Mrs. Cummings, Julia Cummings by Dorothy Pickett, Helen Lynd as the selfish Nona Beaver and Wendell Beauchamp as the desperate lover trying to propose were all splendidly done.

Elly Christiansen sang "Bon Jour Ma Belle" (Behrend), "Good Morning, Brother Sunshine" (Lehmann), and "You'd Better Ask Me." Scott's "Ole Uncle Moon, and "The Slave Song," by Del Riego, were popular numbers, sung by the girls' glee club who gave "Modern Hiawatha" as the encore. "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Drink to Me Only" and "Katy Did" by the boys' glee club were exceptionally popular. "The Mosquito" was the encore number.

Other numbers were "Orientale" and "Norwegian Bridal Procession," duets played by Laura Moyse and Clytelle Hewitt. Like a picture of the cherry blossom land was the setting of the songs for the girls' glee club, which, in Japanese costumes, sang the following airs from "The Mikado," "Comes a Train of Little Ladies," "The Moon," "Three Little Maids from School" and "He's Going to Marry Yum Yum." "Stradella," "School Days," "Stars and Stripes," played by the orchestra, completed the program. Accompanists were Lucille Beach, Erma Lucas and Margaret Johnson. The orchestra was under direction of Irving Ulmer, glee clubs were directed by Florence Parker and piano direction by Zulu M. Zeiglaer. Stage settings were loaned by Mrs. A. B. Cochran of Montrose, Mrs. A. W. Angier and Mrs. Dolly Craig had charge of the decorations.

Masons of the valley are reminded of the package party to be held tonight in the Masonic club rooms at Highway Highlands. Special music for the occasion will be given by the Ted Campbell Serenaders of Glendale. La Crescenta Valley Masons and their wives are urged to attend.

The Hauber home on West Montrose avenue was the scene of a private recital yesterday when pupils of Miss Margaret Hauber gathered there for concert work and a party. The studios were beautifully decorated in bridal wreath while the living and dining-rooms were enlivened with bowls of California poppies. The tables for refreshments were decorated with blue candles in glass candelabrum of the same shade.

After the recital Miss Hauber played while the children marched around the tables receiving plates of ice cream and cake. Games were played. Mrs. F. Hauber was assisted in serving by Miss Margaret and Miss Beulah Leitzel, assistant teacher of Miss Hauber.

The star of the afternoon was little Miss Margaret Salmacia four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Salmacia of Glendale. This diminutive miss played the "Puss" and "Summer Showers," both by Blake.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 11.—Governmental costs in California over which the Governor and the State Legislature have no control, expenditures authorized and voted by the people themselves, are increasing in such disproportion to the increase in available revenue as to indicate the probability of a collapse in the existing methods of taxation for State purposes within the next fifteen years. South Orange Becoming Business Center

New Brick Structure at Corner of Orange and Hawthorne. Owned by J. N. Richards, Frank W. Parr and Winnifred Traver.

Designed and Built by the Allen Construction Co.

The part of South Orange, extending from West Broadway to Colorado boulevard, is destined to become a very important business section. Bounded by Brand boulevard on the east and Central avenue on the west, by Broadway on the north and Colorado boulevard on the south, it affords a connecting thoroughfare to the principal arteries of the city.

Feeling that there is a demand in Glendale for more small storerooms which can be had for reasonable rent, very close in, yet being removed a short distance from the very center where rentals are necessarily high, due to the value of the property, Miss Winnifred Traver, J. N. Richards and Frank W. Parr have erected the two buildings shown above, at Hawthorne and South Orange street, which were designed and built by the Allen Construction Co.

The buildings are constructed with solid brick walls, plate-glass fronts, guaranteed roof, and all materials used are the best obtainable, and as it was built by the Allen Construction Co., the owners feel that they have as good buildings of their kind as it is possible to put up. All rooms are very light and pleasant, having large plate-glass windows as well as sky-lights. Each room has gas, plenty of electric lights and wall plug and its own toilet and lavatory.

Special attention has been given to perfect ventilation by the use of transoms and openings, both front and rear, as well as roof ventilators.

The corner building, owned by J. N. Richards and Frank W. Parr, contains three rooms on South Orange and one on West Hawthorne, all of which open into a room in the rear, which acts as a light and air well.

Miss Traver's building, adjoining, contains two fine rooms, each of which has a partition, giving a front and a private office or workroom in the rear.

DARKENED WINDOWS

By CORNELIA KANE RATHBONE

Copyright, D. Appleton & Co. Serialized by Ledger Syndicate

A man of quick action, he swung round without waiting to answer his own question, and ran swiftly back, turning into the side street before Flint was more than halfway down the block. Graham could see him sauntering slowly along, unmindful of the cold, evidently deep in thought. But he saw more—he saw the shadow trailing furtively behind, waiting for the spot where the street was darkest. An indefinable something of menace in the crouching shape caused Graham to quicken his pace. Suddenly, as he ran, he lifted up his voice. "Look out, Flint!" he shouted.

The dogging figure had straightened itself and lifted its arm to strike.

Instinctively, at Graham's warning cry, Flint gave a quick, sideways leap, thus avoiding the blow aimed at him, and the silent, deadly blackjack circled impotently through the air. In a flash Flint turned on his assailant, but the man, with a nimble, eel-like twist, dodged his onslaught, tripped him with a clever foot-thrust, and took to his heels. Before Graham, who had stopped to assist Flint to his feet, could pursue, he had disappeared.

"No use your chasing him," said Flint. "He's probably walking down Sixth avenue by this time, playing the irreproachable citizen."

The detective was a good deal shaken by his fall. He hobbled over to the steps of the nearest house and sat there for a moment to recover his breath. He moved his shoulder with a wry grimace when Graham inquired after his injuries, but decided finally that there was nothing much amiss.

"It was all my blamed carelessness," he fumed. "I let myself get thinking over this Hurst affair, and didn't watch out; let the eyes in the back of my head go to sleep. Nice kind of a man you've come to to learn how a detective works!"

"The scoundrel must have followed you all the way from Mr. Hurst's house, and then waited till he got you alone in the dark," said Graham.

Flint nodded gloomily.

"This settles the question of the murderer pretty definitely—my burglar, eh?" Graham felt a weight lifted from his heart—Evadne was exonerated. "I wonder whether the fellow was in the house all the time and slipped out when we were all in the library."

"Not with Sergeant Bassett watching outside," said Flint.

"Then he must have seen you and the inspector go in and waited somewhere for a chance of getting you. He was evidently an old hand and recognized you; otherwise he wouldn't have known which one of us to put out of the way."

Flint smiled shrewdly to himself at the deductions of this embryo detective. "Hasn't it struck you as a little unusual for a murderer to run after the officer who is hunting him?" he asked. "My experience is that he generally runs the other way. No, sir, you take it from me, that is not the man who murdered Hannibal Hurst. That would be too easy. In the first place, no criminal with a nice, quiet blackjack in his pocket is going to bother with firearms. And, in the second place, it wouldn't do that outfit any good to get rid of me. Another man would be put on in my place, that's all. But it would be very much to the advantage of certain other parties I know of to have me out of the way."

"What parties?" asked Graham with quick interest.

Flint hesitated. He had spoken without thought and said more than he intended. "Well," he said, "you know, I suppose, what America is up against with all these anarchists and Bolsheviks and foreign devils generally that we've let in, don't you? The country is fairly rotten with their plotting."

"Oh, come now! You don't mean to say that you believe all the stories you hear?" exclaimed Graham. "Why, they are nothing but hysterical inventions, most of them. Not that I've thought much about it, to be sure."

"It's funny all the things men like you don't think about," retorted Flint. "Do you know I sometimes wonder what you do think about. Read your newspapers, man; look at the bomb outrages! look at the strikes! Who do you suppose is behind them? Ever hear of the Third International?"

"Why, yes—in Europe."

"Europe!" scoffed Flint. "Why, they've got this whole country in a net—threads running everywhere. And there are big hands holding the threads, let me tell you." Flint lowered his voice to a whisper. "I don't mind saying to you, if you will swear to keep it to yourself, that I've been following one of those threads. I got hold of it by accident, and I think it is leading me to some pretty dirty business.

UNCLE WIGGILY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Copyright, 1925, By The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

UNCLE WIGGILY AND PEETIE'S PAINTS

Looking down the woodland path, along which he was hopping one afternoon, Uncle Wiggily saw, just ahead of him, Peetie Bow Wow, the puppy dog boy.

"I'll hop fast and catch up to Peetie," said Uncle Wiggily to himself. "Perhaps he would like to go adventuring with me."

The bunny began to hop, but no sooner did his paws thump on the ground than Peetie began to go as fast as his little legs would carry him.

"Hold on! Wait! Don't run away!" cried Mr. Longears, twinkling his nose very quickly, to help him hop faster.

Peetie turned around on hearing the voice, and, seeing Uncle Wiggily, smiled, showing all his teeth, and barked:

"Gosh! How you frightened me. I s'pse I shouldn't say 'gosh,'" he quickly added. "But, gosh, I just can't help it! Oh, there I go again. I'm so excited I don't know what I'm doing," and down on the snow he dropped a box he was carrying.

"Why, Peetie! What frightened you and why are you so excited?" asked Uncle Wiggily, hopping up to the doggie boy.

"I was afraid it was the Bushy Bear when I heard you running after me," panted Peetie. "But, when I turned around after you called, and saw that it was you, I wasn't afraid any more. Oh, gosh—I mean just oh, without the gosh."

"Yes, it isn't considered good form to use slang," gently chided Uncle Wiggily. "However, under the circumstances, I think we may overlook it this once," he went on, speaking radio-like and formal. "But where have you been, Peetie?" he asked.

"To school," replied the doggie boy, wagging his tail sideways.

"To school on Saturday?" cried Uncle Wiggily in surprise.

"I went to school this Saturday to get my box of paints I forgot and left on my desk," explained Peetie, wagging his tail up and down for a change. "I wanted to use them at home to paint pictures in my painting book, and it's got your picture in, too," he added, proudly.

"Has it, indeed? That's fine," laughed Uncle Wiggily. "But why did you say you thought I was the Bushy Bear, Peetie?"

"Because," answered the doggie boy, "when I was coming out of school with my box of paints, I saw the Bushy Bear tiptoeing around the corner. I thought maybe he was after me, but I guess he was after you, Uncle Wiggily."

"I wouldn't be a bit surprised," said the bunny gentleman. "One or another of the bad chaps is always after me or my ears. But I guess the Bear isn't coming now, Peetie."

The little doggie boy picked up his box of paints and then, looking around the corner of a big rock, he suddenly whispered:

"Yes, he is, too, Uncle Wiggily."

"Who is?" asked the bunny.

"The Bushy Bear is coming," whispered Peetie. "He's after you, I guess, but he hasn't seen you yet, and I'll fool him! You just hide behind this rock and I'll fool the Bear."

"How can you fool the Bear, Peetie?" asked the bunny.

"Ill paint a pair of ears, just like yours, on this big bank of snow," said Peetie in a low voice. "When the Bear comes along he will think you are under the snow. He'll dive in to get you, and when he's stuck in the snow you and I can run away."

"A good trick," chuckled Uncle Wiggily.

Quickly, with brown colors from his box, Jackie painted a pair of rabbit's ears on the snow bank. Then the doggie boy ran and hid behind the rock with Uncle Wiggily. Along shuffled the Bushy Bear, sniffing and snuffing.

"Ah! Uncle Wiggily is under the snow. I see his ears," growled the Bear. "I'll jump in on him and grab him!" Into the snow, head first near the painted ears, dived the Bear. Then he knew what a mistake he made. Away down deep in the snow he floundered, and while he was trying to get out safely away ran Uncle Wiggily and Peetie with his box of paints.

It was an hour before the Bear could kick himself out of the snow, and then it was too late to nibble ears that day. So this teaches us that a knowledge of art is a very useful thing. And if the doorknob doesn't turn around so fast that it makes the key too dizzy to jump over the piece of cheese, next you shall hear of Uncle Wiggily and Jackie's bone.

THE GLENDALE

Five acts of Orpheum vaudeville booked through the Western Vaudeville Managers' association, are featured today at the Glendale theatre. Included are "The African Duke," a riotous blackface number introducing Farrell Taylor & Co. Another big number on this program is "The Wyoming Duo," a novelty rope-spinning divertisement, with Ruth Gordon and Budd Carlell.

A pleasing couple, Ray and Edna Tracy, present "Piano Eccentricities." Their clean, easy performance, all of which is original, has stamped them as an unusual pair. The Bimbos bill themselves as "Comedy Acrobatic Entertainers." They offer a keen act, consisting of bumps and falls from tables and barrels, that is not only funny, but amazingly daring.

"The Bear Cat," from the pen of Willard Mack and presented by Fred C. Hagan & Co., has things happening thick and fast, making this playlet a laughing succeess.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Reginald Denny in "Oh, Doctor!" will be the film feature, announces Manager William A. Howe of the Glendale theatre. In addition, these three days, Max Fisher's celerated orchestra will be heard.

DOBINSON PLAYERS

If you were young and attractive and very much in love with a nice chap who was in love with you—even if you didn't know it—and he had come to regard you as a piece of furniture, apparently, and showed no intention of ever renewing his proposal of marriage; well, what would you do?

And what happened next is most hilariously set forth in "The Ruined Lady," which opens at the Glendale Playhouse on Monday night, March 16, for a week's run, the usual Saturday matinee included.

Joseph McManus, the handsome leading man, plays the obtuse Bill, and Miss Doris Lloyd, British actress, recently from London, takes the part of the whimsical, delightful, attractive and desperate—don't forget the desperate—Ann.

This play has never appeared in the west. Only by great good fortune did Mrs. Dobinson secure it after it had been overlooked, though an outstanding New York success, by Los Angeles until she had closed the contract. Director Fred J. Butler is particularly effective in handling this type of play, and his cast has played up remarkably.

Miss Lloyd acted in stock in the British provinces under competent producers and directors until she was, when still a very young girl, thoroughly grounded in her art. Then she went to London, and her success was immediate. But America and the pictures called.

THE GATEWAY

Tom Mix in "Oh, You Tony," featuring the wonder horse, will be shown the last times today at the Gateway theatre. The bill for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday is the famous "Thief of Bagdad" which Douglas Fairbanks has made so popular. It is a beautiful story of romance and adventure, where unbelievable magic and astounding happenings abound.

There will be no advance in prices and a special stereoscopic surprise comedy.

THERE comes a time in every business community that the acts of certain numbers of our citizens stand out in such an unselfish manner that it behooves us to make special mention of their public spiritedness.

Such is the instance in the case of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' Association which is closing their first very successful automobile exposition this week. For almost fifty men engaged in the same line of business to get together and agree upon a plan of cooperation to put on an automobile show such as we have witnessed this week is a spirit that should be commended in every business man. The venture was one that was more for the good of the community than for their individual benefit, and with a keen realization of this being the fact, we, as citizens of Glendale, do earnestly commend them for their civic enterprise and bespeak for them our hearty cooperation and influence in furthering the success of the association in the future.

Glendale has become a real metropolitan city---a city that is recognized as one of the leaders in volume of business and hustling enterprise. It has become a city of this class just on account of such enterprise on the part of business men as has been demonstrated by the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' Association in their successful efforts in putting on this first exposition.

May the success of the show just closing have given the members of the Association sufficient confidence in the loyalty of the people toward this enterprise that the exposition will become an annual event.

The members of the Association may be assured that they have the good will and the support of their fellow business men of the city of Glendale in this very successful undertaking.

Night Attack Surprise To First Line Ships

surprised by a submarine suddenly appearing close alongside and megophoning, "You're sunk," before the big ship's lookouts knew of her presence. Several torpedoes, however, would be required to destroy the ship, it was pointed out, whereas one torpedo is theoretically sufficient to score destruction.

There are nearly 200 warships now in San Diego harbor—practically the entire strength of the country at sea. The battle fleet consisting of the dreadnaughts and heavy cruisers will leave Monday morning for San Pedro, while some 100 of the smaller craft will remain in San Diego until the start for the Hawaian maneuvers is made April 3.

PLAYERS REQUEST LIGHTS FROM CITY

Mrs. Florence Dobinson Asks Street Illumination Be Put Before Theatre

Florence Dobinson, general manager of Dobinson Players, the company presenting plays at the Club Playhouse, Lexington and Central, today sent the following communication to the Glendale City Council:

"Gentlemen:—The undersigned requests that the street lights from Broadway on Central avenue be extended to the block on Central between Lexington and Milford, in which the Playhouse is located. I would respectfully ask immediate consideration and action on this matter, as delay might mean a great deal to the organization, the Dobinson Players, which I represent.

"I feel you agree with me that a theatre which can not be found can not be expected to play to profitable business. And a theatre without lights is lost. For three blocks in the direction of the principal artery of travel Central avenue, after nightfall, is in darkness. It is practically impossible for a person not well acquainted with Glendale to find the Playhouse. There have been numerous cases where prospective patrons have driven from Los Angeles, Hollywood, Pasadena and other cities to attend our performances, drove aimlessly about the dark streets surrounding us, and gave up the attempt.

Value to Glendale

"In making the request for street lights I do not think I am unreasonable, as the following statement will show: My associates and myself are spending every week in Glendale the sum of $1500. It costs us more than $200 to ring up the curtain for a performance. Of this sum, we estimate conservatively that more than two-thirds, or $1000, remains in Glendale. Since we opened, the first of October, up to and including last Saturday night, this means that we have put in circulation here more than $40,000, of which more than $25,000 stayed in Glendale.

"The Dobinson Players have been artistically a success. We have put on good, clean, amusing plays, with a competent cast and excellent directing. And financially we have lost money from the start.

"Reduced to terms of business, the Dobinson Players are equal to an industry employing seventy-five persons at an average salary of $20 a week. There would be great rejoicing, and rightly so, if a new industry employing seventy-five men and women, and distributing in the neighborhood of $80,000 annually, were brought to Glendale. Yet we have such an enterprise which is not likely to stay indefinitely under present conditions.

"Thanking you for giving this petition your serious consideration, I remain,

"Very sincerely yours,

"FLORENCE DOBINSON."

NEW OAKLAND CAR SALE CONSISTENT

Glendale Dealer's New Model Coach Takes 'Eye' Of Local Motorists

Sale of the Oakland coach, which was but recently introduced, has reached such proportions as to more than justify the expectations of Oakland dealers that the demand for this body type would not only be large, but consistently steady, according to John Neuschaefer, 420 East Colorado street, Glendale distributor of Oakland automobiles. One of the coaches has been on display all week at the Glendale auto show.

The production of closed models has been gradually increased each year for the last decade, until during the latter months of 1924 the production of closed cars passed that of open cars for the first time, said Neuschaefer. The leader of this spurt which put the closed cars to the front was the coach.

Introduction of a Fisher-built coach by the Oakland Motor Car Co. has added another model of this popular type, which it is predicted, will, for the first time in the history of the industry, bring the yearly production of closed cars above that of open models.

The 1925 Model Kinner Airster

It is a significant fact that the new 1925 model Kinner Airster is the same sport plane, with the exception of a few minor details, that was designed by this company more than six years ago.

No greater tribute could be paid the Kinner Airster than to say that our engineers, in six years of study, have been unable to discover one single radical change which would make more efficient America's most successful sport plane.

The popularity of the Kinner Airster may be judged by the fact that in six years of production we have never been able to place a new plane on our sales floor.

While all planes now under production are sold, we are in a position to accept a limited number of advance orders for spring delivery.

Program For Tomorrow At Aerial Meet

The closing program of Glendale's two-day air meet will start at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon when the final heat of the "dead motor" contest will be staged. The winners in the contest today will take the air tomorrow at 1 o'clock, climb to the required altitude and glide to earth with the motors of their planes cut off. The pilot landing his plane closest to a chalk mark on the field will be awarded the loving cup offered by the Chamber of Commerce and the City Council.

The relay races, staged this afternoon, will be repeated at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and at 2 o'clock the navy flyers from North Island, San Diego, will give a flying demonstration. The navy demonstration will be followed by balloon straffing. Next on the program will be an exhibition flight of cabin planes built or assembled in Southern California.

An aerial parade will be staged over Glendale tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock, when all ships here for the meet will take the air and flying in formation over the city will land at the airport.

GREAT CROWD AT FIRST AIR RODEO

Many Planes Visit Glendale To Do Death-Defying Stunts In Contests

nia's first aerial policeman, was hovering over the air field in a small monoplane.

Thousands Present

More than 1000 automobiles filled with spectators had arrived at the field before the opening of the meet. At the gate the guests of the airport were given souvenir metal airplanes about three inches long with revolving propellors and a suitable inscription.

Dr. T. C. Young, Glendale, brought his cabin ship to the field at noon. W. P. Kinner, Glendale airplane manufacturer, is one of the directors of the air meet. The field is also patrolled by members of the Glendale fire and police departments.

To Receive Trophy

The beautiful trophy, a silver loving cup eighteen inches high topped by Winged Victory that is to be awarded the winner of the landing contest by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and the city of Glendale, arrived at the field just before the fliers took off to rise to an altitude of 8000 feet over Los Angeles from whence they coasted down with motors dead to the Glendale airport. Today's landing contest was in the nature of an elimination, the winners taking part in the finals at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow. Pilots stopping their planes closest to a given point are declared the victors.

Tonight, as an extra feature, Jose Romero will serve a barbecue dinner to all the contesting aviators and their mechanics and helpers.

Many prominent Southern California pilots were not here for the start of the airmeet. But this afternoon and all day tomorrow, every commercial air field in Southern California will be virtually closed, and scores of pilots will be here to take part in the feats of daring and skill in the air.

John L. Fox, secretary of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, wired officials of the meet that Frank L. Page, noted flier of the southern city is en route to Glendale and will arrive here in his plane late this afternoon.

At the gate visitors this afternoon are being greeted by Mrs. J. M. Robinson, Mrs. Irma Burnett and Miss Clara Babb in behalf of the aviators.

The Glendale Drum and Bugle corps officiated at the opening of the air carnival this afternoon. The first air event was the dead motor landing contest, followed by an altitude race in which planes climbed to a height of 3000 feet and then raced to earth. Demonstrations by the army reserve fliers from Clover field were features of the afternoon's program. At 2:30 o'clock an aerial relay race was staged, one of the most spectacular and exciting events in the annals of sports. This was followed by balloon straffing, the flier striking the most balloons in five minutes being declared the winner. Wing walking stunts concluded the afternoon's exhibition.

Sunday's Program

Tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock victorious fliers in the dead motor landing contest today will enter final competition for the silver cup. At 1:30 o'clock relay races will again be staged. The United States navy fliers from San Diego will give a demonstration at 2 o'clock. This is to be followed by landing contests, balloon straffing and an exhibition flight of cabin planes manufactured or rebuilt in Southern California. Prior to the program an aerial parade will be staged at 11 o'clock tomorrow forenoon, expected to be one of the most inspiring sights in the history of Southern California.

Plans have been completed for the organization at the aerial banquet at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse tonight of an Aeronautical Association of Southern California.

Officials in charge of the meet today and tomorrow are Dr. Young, George B. Karr, Sam Davis, Fred Deal and Howard I. Wood; airport committee, Roy L. Kent and W. E. Hewitt; announcers, Earle Ovington and Arthur S. Dibbern; official starter, George Harrison; field managers, W. B. Kinner and Chief A. H. Lankford of the Glendale fire department. Field patrol was in charge of a squad of American Legion men.

Banquet Night

Donald Douglas, builder of the world flight planes, will be one of the principal speakers at the banquet tonight. He will talk on "Manufacturing Airplanes." Other speakers include, A. L. Cliger, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce; Earle Ovington, Professor A. A. Merrill, head of the aeronautical research department of the California Institute of Technology; Lieutenant C. P. Kane, commander of Ross Field; H. S. Barrett, attorney for the Commercial Aircraft association of Southern California and Howard I. Wood of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce.

Tonight Bert B. Woodard will talk over KFI in Los Angeles from 8 to 9 o'clock on the air rodeo.

Death-Defying Stunts

The crowd of spectators assembled preparatory to the initial event, were thrilled by the death-defying stunts of three navy flyers before they landed at the field. The three flyers, Lieut. F. H. Comamp, Lieut. E. B. Wilkins and Lieut. F. R. Buse, have made the trip from North Island, San Diego, in three Vought naval planes, small ships used for scouting purposes.

As they circled over the field, they attracted the attention of all by their skillful method of performing a series of aerial acrobatics that outshone any stunt flying performances ever witnessed before in Glendale. After nearly half an hour of spectacular twists, turns, sideslips, falling leaf, and numerous dives, the three naval flyers brought their ships to earth. Lieut Comamp is in command of the small squadron. The three ships, known in the navy as "Acrobat ships," are 2-F-8, 2-F-14 and 2-F-12.

Officials of the air meet encountered a great deal of difficulty in handling automobile traffic around the airport, and additional help was secured from the Glendale police department.

The visiting airplanes, arrayed on both sides of the airport, stretch from one end of the landing field to the other, and make an impressive spectacle. At 1 o'clock there were thirty planes on hand, and at least 100 ships are expected before tonight.

J. P. Thille, president of the Ventura Aeronautical association, piloting his own ship, and carrying Dave Matthews of Santa Barbara as his passenger, reached the airport shortly after noon.

Visiting aviators report they found the air "puffy" and "choppy" in spots until they got over Glendale, when they encountered smooth air. Dr. Young, after a preliminary flight, reported the air over the field was exceptionally smooth.

Controversy Is Topic

One of the important topics of discussion among the flyers is the controversy which was brought up yesterday at the Kiwanis meeting when Prof. A. A. Merril, of the California Institution of Technology, characterized the 'round-the-world flights as "an outrageous piece of extravagance," and Capt. Lowell Smith, commander on the world cruise, denied the statement.

Earle Ovington, of Santa Barbara, one of the first commercial flyers in the west, and who worked with Prof. Merril on experimental matters a number of years ago, today said:

"Prof. Merril is all wrong about the world flight being a great waste of money. The 'round-the-world flight had all the people in the world talking about aviation while the flight was on, and if no other results ever come from that flight, the fact that it got practically everybody, people of all nations, interested in aviation, is worth more than the actual cost of the flight."

Mr. Ovington, who is president of the Santa Barbara Aero club, made the statement at the barbecue dinner held at the airport and attended by more than 100 persons who will participate in the meet.

"Regardless of who the aviator is," he said, "if he has the future of aviation at heart, and is not prejudiced by his connection with either army or the navy, he will be behind General Mitchell in his plea for a unified air service.

"Those who did the pioneer duty in aviation back in 1910, expected the dawn of flying to come several years ago, but it was retarded by the World War. The World War did more to hinder flying that it did to help it, because a high speed plane, not any too safe, was a product of the war, and the great number of fatalities connected with aviation during the war had a tendency to slow up flying.

"Aviation affords the only means of transportation where speed lends to safety. It is easier to control a ship at a high rate of speed than at a low rate, but with all other means of transportation more speed means sacrificing safety.

"The opening guns of the dawn of aviation, which will rise during 1925, are being fired at the aerial meet being held in Glendale today. The eyes of the world today are turned to aviation, mainly through the 'round-the-world flight, and aviation is due for the greatest advance it has ever known.

Has Studied Air

"When Prof. Merril talks about the round-the-world flight being too costly, he is off on the wrong foot. I have studied aviation from many viewpoints—technical, commercial, army and layman, and, in my opinion the world cruise was the greatest achievement in the history of aviation, and the cost was mighty low compared to the results accomplished."

Other speakers at the dinner included Councilman Sam Davis, Dr. T. C. Young and W. B. Kinner.

Following the dinner the aviators who participated in the dead motor landing contest tuned up their machines for the event, and shortly before 2 o'clock took off for the required altitude where they cut off the motors and glided to the field.

GIVE HONOR BADGES TO BOY SCOUT TROOPS

Impressive Ceremonies Mark Event at Broadway High School; Executive Tells Need of More Interest

"Home life in America is breaking down and it's up to the parents to take more interest in boys' activities," Tallman H. Trask, Boy Scout executive of Pasadena, told a company of over 1500 parents, Scout executives, leaders and Scouts, last night at the quarterly public court of honor rally of Verdugo Hills council, Boy Scouts of America, at Broadway High school.

Expressive of the ideals of Scouting was the dramatization of the honor court, two gates being on either side of the stage. The first gate, "The Gate of Achievement," was presided over by the Knight of Achievement, portrayed by Eugene J. Wix, in colorful costume. His page, Burnham Warner, Eagle Scout, escorted candidates for Scout badges to the gate, and there they were challenged by the Knight of Achievement. Upon showing certificates proving their qualifications, they were allowed to pass through the gate onto the stage to receive honors. As they left the stage they passed through "The Gate of Reward."

Opening the program was the drum corps of Troop 11, of which Stanley Lowry is scoutmaster. There followed the court session, presided over by Capt. William C. Wattles.

Badges Awarded

Roy L. Kent, president of Verdugo Hills council, awarded the following life and star badges: Bill Hail, Troop 8, star and life; John Blade,s Troop 8, life and star; Gilbert Whitney, Troop 10, star; Jack Roudebush, Troop 10, life; Solomon Klein, Troop 3, life badges.

Merit badges were awarded by William Hunter, chairman of Glendale district, to: Robert Meech, Troop 1, pioneering, first aid to animals; Fred Haskins, Troop 1, pioneering, first aid to animals; Charles Meech, Troop 1, pathfinding, poultry keeping; Hal E. Leedom, Troop 1, safety first, swimming, scholarship; Carter Booth, Troop 2, automobiling; Gurdon Wattles, Troop 2, athletics, carpentry, swimming; Charles Kausen, Troop 2, automobiling, cooking, camping; Arden Packard, Troop 2, safety first, automobiling; Solomon Klein, Troop 2, personal health, pioneering, first aid; Hinsen McClay, Troop 3, swimming, first aid; Charles Williams, Troop 4, swimming; Bill Hail, Troop 8, camping, music, painting; John Blades, Troop 8, swimming, carpentry, athletics; Jack Roudebush, Troop 10, athletics; Gilbert Whitney, Troop 10, handicraft, first aid to animals; Theron Ramey, Troop 12, personal health; Robert Eastman, Troop 12, safety first, automobiling, cooking; Carmen Smith, Troop 12, cooking, pioneering; George Marek, Troop 14, first aid, carpentry, music.

First Class Badges

To Scouts ready for first class badges, awards were made by Major C. L. Wyman, commissioner: Wallace Dry, Troop 14; Leslie Richards, Troop 16; Stanley Lowry, Troop 15; John Vandevere, Troop 8; William Delabar, Troop 15; Jack Hankey, Troop 12, Spencer Van Wie, Troop 12; Charles Garland, Troop 12, Kenneth Warner, Troop 6; Henry Thaw, Troop 15.

Louis Wilson, assistant Scout executive, awarded second class badges to: Bernard Needham, Troop 8; Karl Albert, Troop 5; William Reese, Troop 9; William Coplin, Troop 15; Robert Hankey, Troop 2; Francis Bell, Troop 9; Edward Hoedinghaus, Troop 11; Robert Perry, Troop 15.

A. R. Eastman, treasurer of Verdugo Hills council, presented Troop 2, Glendale, with the plaque, bearing the troop name as reward for winning the annual field meet.

Commissions Given

National Scout commissions were presented by Capt. Wattles to: Harvey R. Cheesman, Scout executive: Louis Wilson, his assistant; C. L. Wyman, a commissioner; Eugene J. Wix and A. G. Wheelon, deputy Scout commissioner; Scoutmasters Payne and Koch.

Troop 9, sponsored by the Rotary club, with Dr. Warren Z. Newton as scoutmaster, received its national charter signed by the president of the United States.

One of the big features was the awarding of the banner to the Scouts having the most admission tickets turned in at the door. Each troop had been given so many tickets. The tickets were free, and when all were turned in count was made to see to which troops went honors for having the most tickets turned in. Final count showed a tie between the oldest and youngest troops, Troop 1, sponsored by the Knights of Pythias, with Hal Leedon scoutmaster, and Troop 17 of Grand View Community church, Rev. George Thomas scoutmaster. Roy L. Kent presented the banner and, in view of the fact that the two troops each had ninety-six to their credit, Mr. Kent awarded the banner to Troop 1 for six weeks. At that time it will go to Troop 17 for six weeks, until the next public court of honor.

Community Singing

Community singing was led by R. Ernest Tucker. Carter Booth of Troop 2 led in Scout yells. A motion picture, "The Chase," showing ski runners on a fox chase through the Swiss Alps, was shown.

Mr. Cheesman announced the Easter vacation outing, April 7, 8 and 9, when the Scouts will go to Mount Lowe by the incline railway, then hike to Opid's camp. From there they will hike to Barley Flats, then pack to Opid's, and home by way of Bear and Millard's canyons.

Impressive was the close of the meeting, the Scouts standing and repeating "The Great Scoutmaster's Prayer."

Three Fights Planned For Jack Dempsey

have been offered from $500,000 to $1,000,000 for Jack's services.

"The man who can show me real money, the man who proves to me he can go will get the match. But it must be Labor day at the earliest. Jack has been idle for a long time and he'll need a few fights before stepping into a tough one. Both Gibbons and Wills are tough fights, don't fool yourself.

"Jack wants to fight. He is now happily settled in married life and the change has made a different man of him. He is all business now. He is doing light training on the coast and as soon as I get back I will close the June match. I hope to close for Michigan City between now and my return to Chicago. We are for Fitz. All we want is assurance he can go. Dempsey and Firpo would make a great match here.

"There is another man I am deeply interested in. He is Joe Benjamin. To my mnd he is as great a lightweight as Dempsey is a heavyweight and I want to send him against Benny Leonard."

Kearns said he and Dempsey are in earnest and that he hopes to get real action from the eastern promoters on this trip.

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service

NEW YORK, March 14.—Stocks were pressed for sale in the short session of the market today and prices were reactionary from the start. Special weakness was apparent in the so-called pool stocks, the steel stocks and the oils. Selling of oils was more persistent than has been seen in any previous session of the week and prices offered less resistance to pressure.

Many of the active oils declined more than a point in the first hour, while comparison of current prices with the January levels shows numerous issues of six or eight points.

With United States Steel selling at near the low for the week and selling pressure renewed on the independent steel, motor, copper and equipment stocks, further declines took place in most of the active stocks in these groups.

Bethlehem Steel broke to a new low for the year at 43; Gulf States and Crucible lost most of their buoyant spirit. Baldwin, American Can and General Electric put up stiff resistance to bearish selling and held fairly steady, while American Woolen and Radio, which were under attack at the opening, recovered slightly from the opening low prices.

Business and industrial news was negligible. The week-end business surveys were as favorable as in recent weeks and promised a continuation of healthy domestic trade. Grain was nervous at the opening with prices practically unchanged from Friday's close. Foreign exchange was firm with continental rates showing further improvement.

St. Paul common and preferred were the most active of the railroad stocks, with sales at fractionally lower prices than at Friday's close.

Selling of industrial stocks in the first hour was for the account of speculators who were heavy losers in the collapse of wheat prices over the past two weeks.

Prices were inclined to higher levels near the close, with the best recoveries in the industrial leaders and a few of the oil stocks.

The bond market was active and steady.

Stock sales today, 753,900 shares; bonds, $7,268,000.

Stock sales this week, 8,253,000 shares; bonds, $75,498,000.

COLONEL BLEASE ENTERS QUIETLY

Wilson's Arch-Enemy Takes Seat In Senate Minus Blare of Trumpets

By ROBERT T. SMALL
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News. Copyright, 1925.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—No one ever thought that Cole L. Blease, of the fire and brimstone Bleases of South Carolina, could enter Washington public life so quietly. Perhaps he has been unfortunate in reaching the capitol after General Billy Mitchell, of the air service and General Charley Dawes, of the vice presidency. There has been so much noise and clatter under the big dome on capitol hill recently that "Coley" Blease just stepped to his place in the Senate chamber on inauguration day and naturally he could not cause a ripple on waters already churned into mildly lashing waves.

But Senator Blease is here and in his place every day and now and then some visitor in the gallery suddenly remembers to ask about him. He is pointed out as a mild appearing man, decidedly slender in stature and wearing a modest gray business suit. The fierce black hair and black mustache of the old days are turned to iron gray and a pair of rather mild eyes look through the horn-rimmed glasses which pinch a small Nordic nose. The Blease head is held back in the manner of men who wear such glasses and generally wear them too far down on the nose.

Wilson's Arch Enemy

A lot of water has flowed under the bridge since Coley Blease used to make the welkin ring down in the old Palmetto state. His arch-enemy, Woodrow Wilson, has gone to his last reward, but Coley has not forgotten the ancient grudge he bore the war-time president. He has served notice quietly upon his colleagues, served it in writing as a matter of fact, that his mind will not go along with them in the furtherance of anything that is left of the Woodrow Wilson plans for international agreements.

Senator Blease is not going to be a Democratic insurgent. He is not going to be a La Follette. Instead, he likes to picture himself as a sort of Democratic Borah, a man disdainful of the party leadership which would drag you around by the nose, make you play dead, roll over and jump through the hoop. Senator Blease is jealous of his right of self-determination. He is naturally Democratic and subscribes to all of the old Democratic principles, but his is a pre-Wilson democracy and he wants nothing to do with new-fangled foreign "entanglements," no matter what you call them.

MONTROSE, March 14.—Montrose Parent-Teacher association held the regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in the Montrose school. Mrs. C. Rienhard, president, was in charge. The treasurer's report on the Lincoln picture receipts showed $137 was added to the treasury.

The important work of the afternoon was the establishment of an emergency cupboard where jams, jellies, foods of various sorts and other supplies will be gathered together to be ready for any call for needy families. Any one wishing to donate to the cause may leave articles of food with Mrs. Eyre at the school or with Mrs. J. Fraser on Hermosa street off Pleasure Way.

SPEAKER DENIES HE WILL RETIRE

Indians' Boss Says No One On Team Good Enough To Replace Him

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

LAKELAND, Fla., March 14.—"There's nobody on this ball club good enough to replace me." In these not at all uncertain terms did Tris Speaker declare himself today on rumored possibility that the great outfielder, having perhaps seen better days, was preparing for a gradual self-elimination from the line-up of the Cleveland Indians. The move in question is furtherest from Speaker's thoughts.

He believes he has no one but himself to blame for his indifferent work in 1924 and intimates rather strongly that the same thing held true for the Indians, almost in toto. A notable exception was Jim Joe Edwards, the left handed gent who sprained a careless knee.

For him Speaker furnished a ready alibi. For himself, none. He staked himself to his worst performance since entering the majors in 1907, in spite of the fact that he hit .344. He, however, drove in only sixty-five runs as against 130 for 1923 and only two other American league outfielders, Ruth and Goslin, made more errors. This is another year, of course, but Speaker cannot forget what might have been.

Cuts Out Golf

"The disability of Uhle and Edwards cost us at least thirty ball games," he told the writer. "These would have made us finish one, two or three. Edwards twisted his knee after winning five games and was useless until September. Uhle just didn't round into condition. He won twenty-six games in 1923 and exactly eight last year. There was nothing the matter with his arm and there never has been. He couldn't last the full nine innings. Both men now are well, able-bodied and ambitious to a fault."

Of his own case, Speaker says nothing and says it eloquently.

It has been noted however, that he has eliminated the golf and hunting excursions that claimed his attention off the field in other years and not only is working for self-advancement but that of others, as a good manager should. It is claimed that speaker once was a manager on the ball field only; that he went out, played great ball and expected his men to follow him. Sometimes they did.

As for the club itself, it is like an old house that has been given the benefit of a job of shingling. Not fool-proof, but rain-worthy. For example, George Burns will be reinforced at first base by Bob Knode, ex-Michigan university youth who hit well for Birmingham last year. "Chick" Fewster, heavier than ever before will play second base but may have to show cause to Joe Klugman, former Dodger, who is back for more. Joe Sewell, the best shortstop in the league, is self-sufficient but Rube Lutzke at third base must either hit in a more superior manner or give way to Fred Spurgeon, product of New Orleans.

MAY REGAIN CROWN

BOSTON, March 14.—Willie Hoppe said today he believed he could re-capture the world's championship balk line billiard crown from Jake Schaefer. After Hoppe was seventy-four points ahead of Schaefer at the conclusion of their five-day Boston match with the final score being 3656 to 3582, it was discovered that the championship did not change hands because the match was arranged outside the schedule of the billiard association.

BERLENBACH WINS

NEW YORK, March 14.—Paul Berlenbach, "knockout king," today had increased his long string of knockouts as the result of stopping Battling Siki, the singular Senegalese, in the tenth round of a twelve-round bout at Madison Square garden last night. At no time did Siki show any of the ability which enabled him to K. O. Georges Carpentier. His dangerous right hand was ineffective.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP by FAIR PLAY

Special Correspondent to The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

NEW YORK, March 14.—West coast boxing fans are banking on two lightweight hopefuls. One of them is Joe Benjamin, who fought a nifty bout against Jack Silver in the Frisco ball park last week and the other is Ace Hudkins, a youngster developed down in Los Angeles during the past four or five months who has been cleaning up the best that has been developed in the southern section.

Hudkins differs from Benjamin in that he is a new hopeful whereas Benjamin has been a hopeful for some time. When the writer first met him he was attached to Benny Leonard's camp and was quite an ambitious youngster.

Joe improved so fast that it seemed certain a time would come when he would tackle Benny for his crown and as a consequence it was deemed better that the two part.

Then Benjamin fell in with Dempsey and the two became great pals. He kept on fighting, but not too often since strict training was not suited to his temperament which is sunny, genial and carefree. In appearance he is one of the Carpentiers of the profession, a clean-cut handsome boy who suggests a college student. He swings through life, laughing and joking, fond of good clothes and not too seriously intent upon developing the possibilities he really possesses.

Stories from the coast make it appear that he has changed and that with Leonard out of the way he is determined to become a champion. The writer sees no reason why he should not realize his ambition—if he will seriously work for it.

Coast cirtics advise the writer that he has developed Dempsey's manner of right and left hooking and puts loads of steams behind his blows. He certainly has enough ability to make it warm for any of the lightweights the writer has seen in action since the present lightweight tourney began.

Crucial Casaba Game Set for Monday Night

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff

With the outcome of the second week of play in the second round of the Glendale Merchants' Basketball league now a matter of history, the possibility of a tie for first place between the Huli Trucks and the Calla Lily team looms. The Calla Lily crew moved up into a threatening position when they defeated the Radios Tuesday night, 27 to 16.

As matters stand now, the truckmen have won eight games and lost one, their percentage being .889. The milkmen have won six games and lost two, their percentage being .750. If the milkmen beat the trucks when the two teams meet Monday night, the standing will be:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Huli Trucks	8	2	.800
Calla Lily	7	2	.778

The milkmen have three remaining games on their schedule after Monday night while the truckmen will have only two. The creamery aggregation plays the Legion on Tuesday night and should have no trouble beating them, so the standing at the end of the week, assuming the milkmen beat the Huli Trucks and the Legion will be:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Huli Trucks	8	2	.800
Calla Lily	8	2	.800

Thus the truckmen and the milkmen will enter the fourth week of play on March 23 tied for first place, and only two games remaining in the schedule. The milkmen will have the Standard Oils and the Christian church to meet to round out their schedule. These two teams would be easy pickings for the milkmen after vanishing the others.

The Huli Trucks will have only two games to play after meeting the Calla Lily aggregation—the Radios and the M. E. church. The Radios put up a stiff battle against the milkmen last Tuesday night, and the M. E. church beat the Huli Trucks in the first round. However, it is not the opinion of those who have followed the league closely, that the M. E. churchmen will repeat their feat of several weeks ago, nor does it look as though the Radios will upset the Huli Trucks.

All of which means that at the end of the season the column of standings will start out something like this:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Huli Trucks	10	2	.833
Calla Lily	10	2	.833

Of course, if the Huli Trucks overcome the Calla Lily aggregation on Monday night there is no possible way in which the milkmen can head off the truckmen from copping first place.

Therefore, first place in the league hinges upon the outcome of the game between these two teams Monday night. If the milkmen win, then top honors will be shared until the Huli Trucks and Calla Lily aggregation determine the right to stay on top in a playoff.

The defeat administered to the M. E. churchmen last Monday night by the Standard Oilers put the churchmen out of the running as far as a crack at top position is concerned. The churchmen have the Radios, Huli Trucks, Legion and Christian church on their list for the balance of the schedule, all of which looks like a fifty-fifty break, and would give them a finish of six wins, six defeats, percentage .500, or fourth place.

The Standard Oilers have the Radios, Huli Trucks, Legion and Christian church on their schedule, and like the M. E. church, it looks like a fifty-fifty break for them. This does not take into consideration the postponed game between the Oilers and the Radios, which should be won by the Radios. The final finish of the Oilers would then be five wins, seven defeats, percentage of .417, or fifth place.

The Radios have five wins and two defeats at the present time with five games yet to be played—two with the Oilers and one each with the Legion, Huli Trucks and M. E. church. The Radios should win in all but the contest with the truckmen, which would give them a final rating of nine wins and three defeats, making their percentage .750, or third place.

Game Protested

Since the Huli Trucks-Legion game Thursday night there has been considerable talk among the league players concerning the fact that the game was played with only four men on the Huli Trucks team. The Calla Lily team, competing for first honors, will file a protest with league officials, it is said, although no official protest has been filed as yet.

When game time was called Thursday night there were only four members of the Huli Trucks present—Fanset, Doll, C. Jensen and E. Jensen. The Legion agreed to play the game, and the contest proceeded. The rule on number of players for each team follows:

Rule 5, Section 1—Each team shall consist of five players, one of whom shall be captain.

In the appendix to the official basketball rules, made a part of the rules by the joint committee, the following question and answer form appears:

Rule 5, Section 1. Q.—May a team play with less than five players? A.—A team must begin the game with five players, but if it has no substitutes to replace players who are required to leave the game, it may continue the game with less than five players.

It has been suggested that inasmuch as the Huli Trucks DID not have five men in the game at the start, that the contest be listed in the records of the league as "no game," and the game replayed with the required number of players on each side. Under the existing rules, the fact that the Legion agreed to play the truckmen with only four players in the Huli Trucks lineup, does not make the game official.

Action on the matter should be taken at a league meeting in the immediate future since the leadership of the league would hinge upon the Huli Trucks-Legion game if the Calla Lily aggregation defeats the truckmen on Monday night.

Pending the official action of the league president, N. C. Hayhurst on the game, the contest between the truckmen and the Legion will be listed in the standings. The way the teams stand at the end of the second week of play for the second round, taking into consideration all the games played to date, follows:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Huli Trucks	8	1	.889
Calla Lily	6	2	.750
Radios	5	2	.714
M. E. Church	4	4	.500
Standard Oil	3	4	.429
Legion	1	6	.143
Christian church	0	8	.000

LAWRENCE PERRY SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, March 14.—When the football rules committee meets in this city, it will have a chance to do something really constructive for the game.

It can put a premium upon a running or passing attack in an effort to score after a touchdown. Two points added to the six gained through a touchdown as the reward of a run or a forward pass would be very tempting to coaches and field generals, provided, of course, the one point to be made by kicking a goal after a touchdown stands.

As it is now, the drop or place kick is employed with hardly an exception. The placing of the ball on the 3-yard line was designed last year by the football committee to encourage running and passing plays but it had no such effect.

If more points could be gained by launching some play other than a kick there is not the slightest doubt that coaches would turn their minds to making something of this opportunity.

One thing is certain: There would be fewer tie games than have been played in the past and the thrilling aspects of the game as a game would be immeasureably enhanced.

Under present conditions the play after touchdown is almost as superfluous an appendage as was the free kick that formerly obtained. It is pretty hard to get the committee to do anything radical but here is one radical step that should appeal to this body.

In all probability, one change at least will be made. The kick-off point would be moved back to the kicking team's forty yard line and a tee of not too great altitude will be permitted. The stipulation under which the ball was kicked from mid-field and not teed up worked out badly, first because the ball usually went over the goal and secondly, when it did not go over the line it whizzed down the field at a flat trajectory and thus made the prompt covering of the boot by the kicking team an extremely difficult matter.

Something will have to be done about rule XVIII, Section 3, which among other things holds that any player may recover a kicked ball which has not crossed the line of scrimmage. There has been variance as between the east and the west over the interpretation of this rule.

The rules committee held that if a ball kicked by team A strikes a team A player, the ball not going over the line, it will count a down. If the ball does go over the line, team A, it was ruled, may not have it, the ball going to team B where touched. Western officials it appears did not agree with this interpretation and something will have to be done to bring about unanimity between the sections.

There will probably be a lightening of the duties of the referee, at least as far as watching for roughing of the kicker is concerned. This duty, it is likely, will be delegated to the head linesman.

It is likely, too, that when a defending team is off-side, the team offended against will not receive a first down in addition to the five yards—unless the distance thus gained covers the ground necessary for first down. At present the penalty is an unwarranted affliction to the defending team off-side.

TOD MORGAN WINS

LOS ANGELES, March 14.—Taking every round and almost mercilessly pounding as he pleased, Tod Morgan, of Seattle, was another notch closer today to a possible match with Kid Kaplan, following his victory at the Hollywood stadium last night over Gene Delmont, of Memphis. It was a slow-moving affair, Morgan outclassing Delmont in every round.

ENGINEER WINS

GARRETT, Ind., March 14.—Proving to the satisfaction of the courts that his health was seriously impaired by operating a leaky railroad locomotive, Ezra Sliger, veteran engineer, was awarded $13,069.80 from the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

DYNAMITERS WIN ANOTHER CONTEST

South Pasadena Tracksters Take Only One First In Duel Meet

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, Jr.
Of The Evening News Staff.

Running true to form, Coach Hayhurst's Glendale Dynamite track crew mopped up the South Pasadena outfit yesterday on Broadway field, 95½ points to 17½ points. Out of the thirteen events an even dozen went to the local crew. Squires was the only South Pasadena man to win a first, when he nosed out Howard Rassington and Ray Jones in the high hurdles by a hair's breadth, thereby cheating the Red and Black out of a few digits.

"Seedy" Maydwell was high point man with eleven; close behind came the track captain, Bud Elliott, who had ten markers to his credit. Ellsworth de Parcq was third with nine and Bill Bradbury fourth with eight.

In the first five events the Dynamiters cinched fifty-three out of the possible fifty-five points. In the shotput and the discus the Tigers didn't have a lookin. The relay and the broad jump went to Glendale, and in the high jump South Pasadena got but half a point, while Mullin won one whole digit by his efforts in the pole vault.

May Win Pennant

With the Dynamiters going the way they are, Coach Hayhurst has good reason to believe that they will win the league pennant. As far as Monrovia, South Pasadena and Alhambra go, the meet will be a walkaway. Hayhurst states that the Covina team represents the only real opposition the Dynamiters will receive this year.

None of yesterday's marks were anything at which to wonder, chiefly because the Glendale men were content to win their points by easing around, rather than spending useless effort in trying to shatter records.

The results:

100-yard dash—Won by Slocum (G.); Wykof (G.), second; Sunderland (G.), third. Time—10:4-10 s.

220-yard dash—Won by Purdy (G.); Clapp (S. P.), second; Williams (S. P.), third. Time—24:2-10 s.

880-yard run—Won by Maydwell (G.); Tuomy (G.), third; Jones (G.), third. Time—2:14:6-10 s.

Mile run—Won by Montgomery (G.); Sturgess (G.), second; Raip (S. P.), third. Time—05;08:7-10 s.

120-yard high hurdles—Won by Squires (S. P.; Rossington (G.), second; Jones (G.), third. Time—17:8-10 s.

220-yard low hurdles—Won by de Parcq (G.); Inglesby (S. P.), second; Breeniman (G.), third. Time—28:1-10 s.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925.

FORT WORTH, Texas, March 14.—(En route from California to Southern training camps).—Of the three National League clubs training in California, the Chicago Cubs seem to be the farthest advanced despite the fact that they have had to lay off one day because of rain.

A general survey of the three clubs is sufficient to indicate that they all possess more power than they had last year. The Cubs are confident they can bump Pittsburgh and they certainly have plenty of life. The Pittsburghs have speed but they are cautious. They have been bumped so often they have reason to be cautious. The St. Louis Cardinals are enthusiastic and they are really trying hard to get in condition. They think they have a chance to get high because of their ability to knock all the opposing pitchers off the map.

The weather has been kind to all three of them. What has bothered them most is the heavy dew in the morning which holds morning practice back to a late hour. But all three teams like California. Pittsburgh and Chicago are sure to return next year and perhaps St. Louis will also return.

Of the three teams Chicago seems to be the best behind the bat with Hartnett and O'Farrell. The former is a throwing wonder. When a catcher can shoot them down to second on a four-foot level at this time of the year he is bound to be good. That is what Hartnett can do.

Smith and Gooch of Pittsburgh will run the Cubs' pair a close second. The St. Louis team is not so well equipped with catchers although Gonzales will steady it when he joins it.

The pitchers are all a guess. Alexander and Cooper, of the Cubs, are the most promising veteran pair. With them it is simply a matter of what they can bring out of their arms. Pittsburgh has four pitchers who have the ability if they have the luck. Morrison, Yde, Aldridge and Kremer should get somewhere. There is a great deal to be done for the St. Louis pitchers before they can be figured at championship form and perhaps some of them will never have the luck.

Pittsburgh has a kid first baseman in Niehaus. Grimm, a veteran, will play the initial sack for the Cubs and Bottomley, the best of the three, is in fine trim to play first base for St. Louis. It is the general belief of those who have seen him in action that Bottomley will have a great season.

At second base there are Adams for the Cubs, Moore for Pittsburgh and Hornsby for St. Louis. There can be no question that the latter has the call, but Moore is likely to prove a sensation before the season is over.

The shortstops are Maranville for the Cubs, Wright for Pittsburgh and Freigau for St. Louis. The "Rabbit" appears to be as good as ever and he says himself that he is. Wright will give him a battle worth while this year and the general play at short by the western teams should be one of the features of the season.

At third base the strength is not so well equalized with Freiburg playing it for the Cubs, Traynor for Pittsburgh and Bell for St. Louis. Traynor is the best of the three without question. He looks better than he did last year and is eager to make a more successful record than he made in 1924.

In the outfield the Pirates seem to have the better of it. Some of the managers on the coast do not seem to think very highly of shiners who have been taken back from the minors by St. Louis, but they look pretty good. Pittsburgh has five outfielders who can work well and neither of the other two teams has that many good ones.

M'CORMACK FIRM PAYS DIVIDENDS

Glendale Company Declares $2 Share On Stock To Stockholders

Checks are in the mail amounting to $2 a share for the stockholders of H. S. McCormack & Associates, whose offices are in the Security bank building. This makes the eighth dividend paid by this firm since they started business eighteen months ago.

The policy of this firm is to distribute 70 per cent of their earnings to the stockholders, place 20 per cent in the reserve and surplus account, after which 10 per cent is allowed for management purposes.

Dividend Checks

Accompanying the dividend checks are notices to the stockholders to the effect that the stock underwritten by Stephen W. Huntington has all been placed with the exception of the last seventy-eight shares, which, when sold, will complete the entire capitalization of this corporation.

"The market value of these shares, which were placed on sale originally at $100 a share, has constantly risen as the reserves and surplus has increased, to a market value of $112.50 and it is predicted that within a year the shares will be worth approximately $125 a share," said H. S. McCormack.

This firm practically confines its investments to Glendale real estate, mortgages and trust deeds and at present they are large holders of Glendale business frontage and income properties.

Postoffice Orders To Come Over Air Route

Orders of the postal department at Washington, given out from day to day for the guidance of postoffices over the country, will be delivered to Glendale and other cities of Southern California in the future by air mail. Heretofore considerable irregularity in getting new orders of the department into operation has been experienced, due to the delay in ordinary mailing.

That the government is trusting its official bulletins and new orders to the air mail is a good indication of the safety, speed and general efficiency of this service, Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson pointed out.

Associated Chambers Plan Burbank Meeting

Fred Deal, director of the Chamber of Commerce, will represent Glendale at the meeting of the executive committee of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at Old Stone Inn, Burbank, next Tuesday night. The executive committeemen meet one week prior to the regular association meeting to take care of routine business, thus allowing more time at the membership meetings for instructive and social work.

Here Is a Bungalow Bargain

Our policy is never to exaggerate in our advertising and this advertisement is no exception, but we must in some way make you realize that this is a very "unusual" opportunity. Seven-room stucco. A wonderful view location in one of Glendale's very best restricted residential sections. Every possible built-in feature and arrangement that makes for attractiveness and convenience.

This place must be sold in the next few days. If built and sold in the regular way, would have to be offered at $8500. Reduced a few days ago to $7000, it was in our judgment a real bargain, but now—owner says we must get a quick deal. Honestly! We think $6500 with about $1000 to $1200 cash (possibly less) will buy it. Whoever gets it will get the best bargain sold in Glendale in many a day. We predict it will be sold before noon Monday, as it is actually being offered under the cost of the lot and construction. Is it worth your time to investigate?

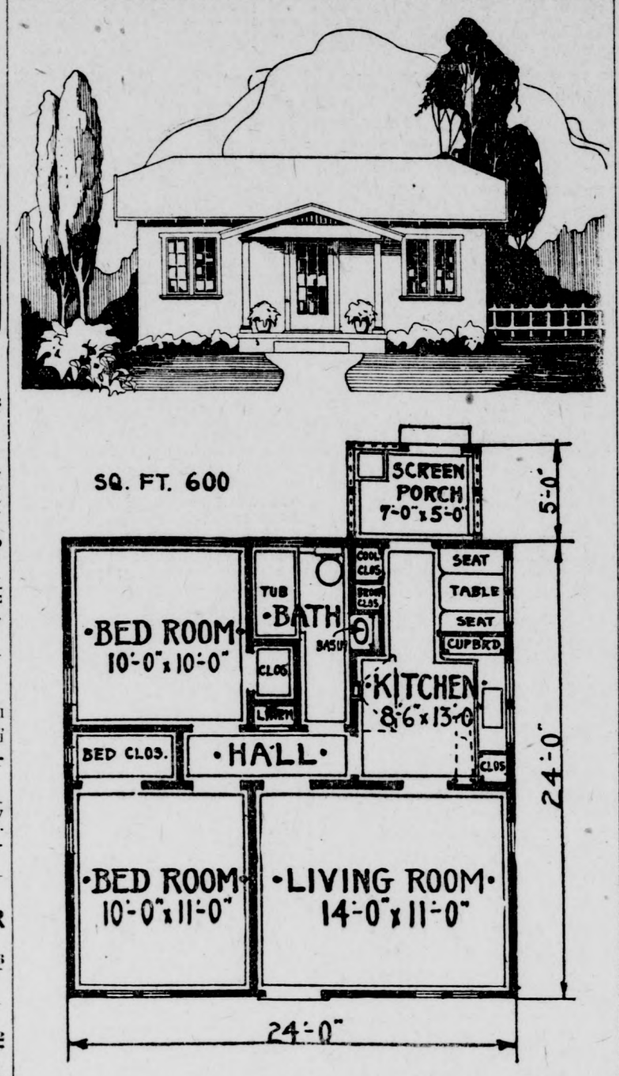
Bill Ding Offers New Home

Convenience keynote of small house pictured here, sez Bill—and it only costs a little over $2,000 complete when purchased from the Bentley Lumber Co. Everything is built in—even to the bathtub.



Bill Ding the enterprising young man who has recently established himself with the Bentley Lumber Co., at 460 West Los Feliz road, submits a home plan for builders with exceptional merit for a small bungalow. Sez Bill:

"If you will notice in selling or renting a property, convenience is the very key note. In this exceptional plan the convenience of going from all rooms of the house tu yer bath room, is a mighty big feature. Then there are all those built-in features that every housewife has a wish fer. Even to the built-in bath tub, something the more expensive homes go to a lot of expense to create.

"Now don't tune off this here wave length fer I'm going to have something to say about the cabin up in the mountain as also about the party we are to have down to the house some Saturday night when we open up that keg o' nails. But concluding about this beautiful little bungalow court home unit, or small home pictured just above, the cost of it completely finished for you to move into, is a little over $2,000. Additional information can be obtained at the offices of the Bentley Lumber Co.

"You folks that have seen my picture in the Glendale Evening News, of course, know how crippled up I look with rheumatiz, which I contracted by staying back East too long, but I want to say the cabin I built up in the mountains near Glendale has been finished and am all moved in, and I find that this mountain air is a great help to cure rheumatizism. For those of you who haven't seen my picture in the paper, you just want to keep yer eye on every Saturday's paper of the Glendale Evening News.

"You must also read the advertising particularly, for sometimes I say a bookful in a very few words. The News has the exclusive advertising on Bill Ding; the next time you see me look me over. Better yet, drop around and meet me personally. I'll advise with you on any Build-Ding you may have in mind. My secretary is working out the party plans. More news about it next week.

The convention was the largest and most successful ever held, Mr. Nisle said. Under the direction of the retiring president, Lorne Middough of Long Beach, much was accomplished during the business session. Charles Steinhert of Stockton was elected president for the coming year. Stockton was designated as next year's meeting place.

Honks Along Gasoline Row

"This is the best automobile show I've ever seen—and I've seen over 100," Harry LaBreque told the folks last night at the big tent on South Brand boulevard at Magnolia avenue. "It is one-third the size of the recent Los Angeles show, by actual measurement, and the Los Angeles show was the biggest ever held in the west. Think what that means. Glendale, with around 60,000 population, puts on a purely local show one-third the size of the great Los Angeles show, with over 1,000,000 to draw from. That shows what a bunch of live-wire go-getters the members of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association is."

FLOWERS HAVE MADE THEIR APPEARANCE AT MANY BOOTHS—BUT, BOYS, DON'T PICK THOSE PAPER ROSES!

Over $50,000 worth of Cadillacs are displayed by the Court Motor Co., 901 South Brand boulevard. Manager LaBreque made this announcement from the stage last night. "And," says William A. Court, who heads this company, "I have exhibited in automobile shows since 1917, including the Los Angeles shows, but I never got such response as I have from this show. I have a big list of genuine Cadillac prospects, and expect to close with a number of them, as a direct result of the automobile show, which is the first, but not the last, that will be staged in Glendale by our association."

COUNCILMAN S. A. DAVIS, "SAVING SAM," VISITED THE SHOW LAST NIGHT BEHIND A BIG CIGAR.

All the kids in Glendale, particularly boys, gathered around the Standard Oil booth last night, where L. E. Ketchum of the Broadway and Kenwood street station was on duty in spotless white. "Now then, children, this is a wonderful car," he said, pointing to the toy auto that was circumnavigating the toy track. "This car goes 150,000 miles on a gallon of gas and circles the track in three minutes." That's all right with the kids, Larry, but don't try to spoof an old soldier.

Ira F. Hassad, Glendale manager of the R. D. Tompkins Motor Car Co., 219 West Colorado boulevard, Paige-Jewett dealers for the Glendale, Burbank and Eagle Rock territory, is wearing a broad smile these days. "We've sold several cars out of the show," he says.

Psenner Brothers, auto electricians, 601 South Brand boulevard, contributed to the program last night with selections over west coast radio stations, via their new five-tube Atwater-Kent console model receiving set.

A demonstration model Willys-Knight sleeve-valve motor, mounted on a table, with working parts revealed, is proving a big hit at the show. Hundreds who have long wondered how the Knight type motor works are now able to satisfy their curiosity. The motor is part of the exhibit of the Murray Motors, Inc., 905 South Brand boulevard, Willys-Knight and Overland dealers. Another feature of this booth is the new six-cylinder Overland exhibited here for the first time in Southern California.

Wasn't the tent nice and warm last night? Good reason why! Ray-Glo, the popular gas heater, was on the job. Ask Coker & Taylor, plumbers, 209 South Brand boulevard. They know why. They distribute it.

The current for the sparking "Willard" sign in the booth of the Cizek Auto Electric Co., 300 South Brand boulevard, is furnished by a Willard battery. They are the local agents.

Many people have wondered how a distributor works. Those who have visited the booth of the Monarch Auto Supply Co., 204 South Brand boulevard, no longer wonder. A huge Tungsten distributor, cut away to show the working parts, is in constant operation. It shows just exactly how each spark plug gets its juice at the appointed instant.

And again last night crowds gathered at the booth of the Jellison Motor Co., 1004 South Brand boulevard, where the "million dollar" Star motor purred away hour after hour, under its own power.

In the words of Andy Gump: "I have already secured parking space for next year at the automobile show of the Glendale Motor Car Dealers' association.

Rev. Moon Announces Series of 5 Sermons

Rev. R. H. Moon, pastor of Christian and Missionary Alliance church, will begin a series of five Sunday night sermons on the general theme, "The Five Crowns," the first of the series opening tomorrow night. Rev. Moon extends an invitation to all who made decisions in the John Brown meetings to attend. "The Five Crowns" to be discussed are: "The Crown of Rejoicing;" "The Crown of Incorruptible Crown;" "The Crown of Righteousness;" "The Crown of Life;" and "The Crown of Glory." Commenting on the series of sermons Rev. Moon said:

"During the John Brown meetings there were a number of young people converted and Christians strengthened in the faith. There is nothing that will so help the new and old Christian alike as the knowledge that God in His great love and wisdom has provided an incentive to encourage the Christian in his daily battle with temptation. God has promised to give every faithful Christian a reward at the end of his life in the shape of five wonderful crowns. Not every one will receive all these crowns; some will receive none and yet others will receive only a part of them, however, all are entitled to them."
